

We are Sawing Wood. If you want to see us saw and incidentally to CUT PRICES on stock in the line of Clothing and Gents' Furnishings, call at the store now.

We have made extensive purchases of goods for Spring wear and as we are even now cramped for room we must cut down our present stock of up-to-date wearing apparel. If you want a STYLISH SUIT, one you can't tell from a merchant tailor's garment, inspect the splendid line we are showing.

THE "HUB" CLOTHING STORE
P. F. SEIBEL, Proprietor.

Do You Want Something Real Nice?

Then buy a pair of Keiths' "Konqueror" Shoes for men only. A few weeks ago we ordered a pair of shoes especially for you. They arrived today. Don't let anybody else get them.

We are the sole agents for the Celebrated Keith shoes. They are the handsomest shoes on the market and one of the best fitters. Made in Patents, Krome Kid, Russia Colt and Box Calf.

It will do you good to see them.

SPAFFORD & COLE.

DRUGS, MEDICINES AND CHEMICALS.

Sponges, Syringes, Soaps, Combs and Brushes,
PERFUMERY, FANCY AND TOILET ARTICLES, ETC.

PRESCRIPTIONS CAREFULLY AND ACCURATELY COMPOUNDED.

F. E. KRETLOW, Pharmacist.

We wish to announce that we have a splendid line of books to read this cold weather, all the best authors. Call and look over the list.

Fine Candy, Nuts, Etc.

Can be found in abundance at the store of

C. D. BRONSON, Stationer.

Willson's Orchestra

Geo. C. Willson, Director.

Will furnish two to twelve men for balls, receptions, parties, etc.

TERMS MODERATE.

For engagements call on or address

LOUIS H. DANNER, Mgr.,

Phone 20-3 Rhinelander, Wis.

HOTEL ALPINE,

Jan. McGowan, Prop.

Rates, $1.00 PER DAY

First-Class Accommodations.

One block north of North-Western Depot Rhinelander.

FREEZES LIMBS AND FEET

Woodman For Brown Bros. Lumber Co.
Falls Victim to Cold Sunday Night
While Going to Camp.

Martin Daniels, a single man employed as loader in James Doyle's camp for Brown Brothers near Highland station was badly frozen as a result of exposure to the intense cold of last Sunday night.

The man had spent the day in this city and left here at 6:30 o'clock on foot for the camp. The thermometer registered 25° below zero when he started out but as he was warmly clad he had no fear that he would reach his destination.

Some of the boys from camp found Daniels the following morning as they were going to work. He was lying in a swamp unconscious not more than three quarters of a mile from the camp. The logging tracks in the neighborhood showed that he had tramped in every direction but the right one again and again and then had wandered aimlessly among the piles until complete exhaustion came and the rigid weather paralyzed his limbs. His hands had been well protected by heavy wooden mittens and an additional pair of leather ones but his feet and limbs were stiff and the circulation of blood in his lower extremities had stopped.

He was carried to the camp and laid beside a roaring fire until the frost had apparently left him, but did not regain consciousness.

He remained in a comatose condition for 26 hours and was then taken to St. Mary's Hospital where an examination showed that amputation of part of each foot would be necessary. This in itself is surely bad enough, but when the all night exposure is considered the final result is much less than was to have been expected.

LATER—As we go to press it is reported that Daniels has the sense of feeling in his feet and it may be possible that the members may be saved.

Lawrence Cut of Pulp Wood.

The cut of pulpwood in the forests in the Lake Superior district on the American side this winter will be twenty-five times as great as it was last winter and three times larger than in any preceding year. It will amount to not less than 125,000,000 cords. More than 750 men will be employed in the camps all winter and three times larger than in any preceding year. It will amount to not less than 15,000,000 cords. More than 750 men will be employed in the camps all winter. About 15,000,000 cords will be shipped by rail, as much of the cut goes to mills in Wisconsin and Illinois, while large quantities will go by water to ports on Lake Erie. On the Canadian side of the lake the winter cut will be over 25,000,000 cords, all of which will be moved out by the water in the spring.

May It Be True.

The rumor is again rife that the Soo line will begin running its train Nos. 84 and 85 between Minneapolis and Gladstone about the first of next month or as soon as spring makes an appearance. By making this a strictly passenger, mail and express run on a good time schedule there will be an appreciable increase in traffic that is now directed to other lines. Should this change be made train 85 leaving here at 7:20 a. m. westbound would leave at a later hour and 84 which arrives at 6:20 p. m. would be considerably earlier in its arrival. With good connections a faster day train to the twin cities will be far more desirable for a great portion of the traveling public.

Sale Ends This Week.

J. P. Hansen's sale will close with the present week and workmen begin at once to enlarge the store which will be given a complete overhauling and fitted out with new cases and fixtures. With double the floor space and a complete new stock it will make a model establishment. Mr. Hansen is satisfied from the experience of the past two weeks that advertising is what brings business and readers of this paper will be apprised each week that there is something doing at Hansen's clothing store.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to Pleasant to Take

The finest quality of loaf sugar used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the result used in this preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Children like it, and as it contains no opium or other harmful substance it has no injurious after effect. It always cures. In cases of cold, croup and whooping cough it can be given with implicit confidence. It is equally valuable for adults and children. For sale by Anderson & Haman.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend to our friends and neighbors our heartfelt thanks for the aid and sympathy given us during the illness and at the death of our beloved daughter Jennie.

Mrs. and Mrs. Hans Anderson.

MASONS WERE WELL TREATED.

Members of the Masonic Fraternity Enjoy Hospitality of Crandon Lodge.

A party of Masons from this city consisting of Alex. McKee, H. C. Braeger, Arthur Taylor, W. B. LaSalle, F. M. Mason, James Morgan, Rev. G. Balcock, Thomas Robertson, Gus. Horn, and David Kirk were in attendance at a reception given by the new F. & A. M. lodge at Crandon Tuesday.

The party went upon the invitation of the Crandon lodge and was jointly entertained with 65 members of the Antigo order and 12 from Eagle River.

A splendid time was enjoyed by the Masons from here and many were the warm words of praise heard in behalf of the Crandon lodge for the manner in which their guests were cared for.

A banquet was awaiting the guests promptly upon their arrival. The spread was laid in the Presbyterian church and was in charge of the ladies of that house of worship.

Degrees were conferred upon two candidates in the evening by the Antigo delegation after which another very attractive repast was prepared in the opera house. Speeches and toasts were in order and all report the occasion one long to be pleasantly remembered.

DOINGS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Repeated challenges have come from Antigo lately for a game of basketball. It is needless to inform them that we have no basketball team as that was known long ago. We gave them a chance to flaunt their challenges for a football game last fall, but strange to say, none were forthcoming. Although basketball is exciting sport we prefer to devote at least a part of the year to school work exclusively. However if Antigo has any thought of challenging us for a field meet, which of necessity must be held at Antigo, we will be only too glad to accept.

An interesting program was carried out before the Boys' Literary Society Monday evening. The numbers were as follows: Essay, "The Crisis Between Japan and Russia," Edward Malone; essay, "Theodore Roosevelt," Clarence Hansley; Parliamentary Law, F. A. Lowell. The last named was carried out by tables on the board, eliciting many questions from the members, all of which were answered to the utmost satisfaction.

The following literary program was delivered in the auditorium Wednesday: Essay, Social Life in Girls' Colleges, Hazel Hillebrand; recitation, Opportunity to Labor, Gladys Lawrence; recitation, Commencement, Cora Hogan; essay, Working One's Way Through College, Irene Langdon; recitation, Higher Education for Women, Erna Feasey; recitation, A Harvard-Yale Football Game, Frank Caulkins.

The final meeting of the Girls' Literary Society was held Wednesday. The funeral ceremonies were exceptionally quiet, very few long aware of the dissolution of this memorable body.

Examinations are being held for the last period of six weeks. No finals will be held at this time.

New Books at the Library.

The following books will be ready for circulation from the Public Library, Saturday, Feb. 13:

Allston—Her Boston Experiences.
Boston—Training of Wild Animals.
Henderson—John Dreyfield.
Holland—The Butterfly Book.
Mitchell—Dr. North and His Friends.
Whitlock—Nestlings of Forest and Marsh.

Wilkins—Wind in the Rose bush.

Wis. Geological Survey—Soils and Agricultural Conditions of North Central, Wis.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS.

Krost—Two Girls in China.
Our Country, west.

St. Nicholas Xmas Book.

Volke—Truth about Santa Claus.

Welsh—Nursery Rhymes.

CIRCULATION FOR JANUARY.

Total 1884, adult 815, children 1671.

Periodicals, philosophy and religion, 14; sociology and mythology, 115; natural science, 79; useful arts, 21; time arts, 11; literature, 31; history, 55; travel, 12; biography, 42; fiction, 121.

Canadian Pacific Week.

Canadian Pacific trains numbers 7 and 8 met in a head end collision at Sand Beach, Ont., Tuesday evening, wrecking both trains and resulting in the loss of fifteen lives with list of injured reaching twenty. Both trains were going at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred. We have not yet heard upon whom the blame for the disaster lies. The death list includes the engineers of both trains, two express messengers, one baggage man, a newsboy, and nine passengers. Train numbers seven west bound, was fourteen hours late in arriving here yesterday.

"Konaka" tonight at the Grand.

WHIRLED AROUND SHAFT

Mill Operator Becomes Tangled in Shafting and Is Almost Instantly Killed at Brazell's Mill.

The sawmill of E. Brazell & Son, located two miles north of Bundy (Jeffers) was the scene of a terrible happening Tuesday afternoon. John Featherston, who with Richard Allett was running the mill for Brazell & Son by the thousand was caught by a shaft while at his work Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 and before the mill could be stopped was so badly mangled that death came to him while at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Featherston had gone outside the mill, which was in operation, to loosen up a batch of frozen sawdust in the chute which projected out from the mill at an angle of about 45°. A shaft for operating the chute, running at a speed of 165 revolutions per minute, was located above the chute. Featherston stepped into the chute and endeavored to tramp down the sawdust with his feet and while there his clothing must have caught on the rapidly revolving shaft. He gave a cry for help as he swung through the air but his voice was not heard, being drowned by the rumble and whirl of the machinery. As the shaft revolved the doomed man's legs were snapped against the heavy timbers of the chute and before the mill was shut down both legs were broken in half a dozen places. The mill saw the condition of affairs shortly after the happening and pulled the whistle to stop the mill but the little interval of time was sufficient to maim and kill the victim.

Such medical assistance as was possible was given the man but death came to end his sufferings.

Featherston was 35 years of age, married and the father of five children. He was an engineer by trade and was in charge of the motive power in the Jeffers sawmill for five years.

The remains were taken to Tomahawk for burial. The dead man was a member of the Modern Woodman Lodge but had dropped the order about a year or two ago.

DEATH OF MRS. H. O. LEWIS.

Aged Mother of Mrs. F. E. Moore and H. O. Lewis Passes Peacefully Away.

After an illness of several months duration at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. E. Moore, on Delham St., Mrs. H. O. Lewis departed this life Tuesday, Feb. 9.

Death resulted from weakness due to her age which had passed the three score and ten mark by seven years.

Throughout her illness the aged lady had the loving care and attention of her children, especially Mrs. Moore, with whom she spent her last days. Members of the family were constantly at her bedside and the white haired husband ministered to the sick one's wants for weeks at a time and by his presence helped to cheer the flagging hours.

Mrs. H. O. Lewis was born at Hantebede, near Harlech, North Wales in May 1827. She came to America in 1852 and in July 29, 1854, was married to H. O. Lewis in New York City. In the spring of '76, she moved with her husband to Wisconsin to catalog in the vicinity north of Randolph and remaining to Portage, Wis., the following year where the family residence has since been.

A family of six children blessed the union, one dying in infancy, Susie, 39 years of age, well known here, John of Antigo, the eldest, Hugh of Portage, Ben and Annie (Mrs. F. E. Moore) of this city.

Mrs. Lewis was prominently identified with the M. E. church all her life and was a leading member of the Portage M. E. congregation.

The remains were shipped to Portage for burial, the last rites taking place there Friday afternoon, February 12.

The family and those who were fortunate in knowing the splendid character of the dead lady have the sympathy of all in their time of sorrow.

Deep Snow in Canada.

Trains from the east over the Soo road continue to be from one to three hours late arriving in Rhinelander. The trouble is with the snow which in some places through Canada is from three to five feet on the level. Many towns in Ontario have been without train service for days. Train men say that the snow is so deep that the track when cleared of it resembles a canal. From Saint Ste. Ste. Marie to this city the road bed and track is always clean and limited trains experience no trouble in making rapid headway.

A Japanese Tea.

A Japanese Tea is to be given by the Mission Circle of the Congregational church Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. C. P. Crosby. The program is to consist of talks upon Japan and Japanese customs and tea will be served by young ladies in Japanese costume. All ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to be present.

THE GIRLS ARE ENTERTAINERS.

Leap Year Party Given by the Young Ladies at the Armory.

Fifty couples attended the Leap Year Party at the Armory last Friday evening and it was about the nearest thing in the way of a social function that has ever been given here in years. It was very clearly demonstrated that the young ladies are very able to look after affairs along this line and look after them in proper shape without the assistance of the sterner sex except as an after issue when all the arrangements had been completed.

Hall's well known orchestra of Fond du Lac furnished the inspiration for the party and as usual the harmony was most satisfactory. There were twelve pieces in the orchestra.

The hall was very prettily decorated and the "cozy corners" were much in evidence. Couches and rocking chairs were there for the weary ones and the sight of the ladies turning their chairs over to the gentlemen was novel and amusing to many.

There was a rule in force and it was pretty well adhered to that no gentleman could traverse the hall without an escort and introductions were only in order when Miss was changed to Mr. and vice versa. The gentlemen were obliged to wait until they were invited to dance but the party was free from "wall flowers." The committee in charge of the floor saw that everybody was having a good time and the enjoyable spirit of the occasion held a number of the couples there until 11:30 the following morning.

Coffee, sandwiches, olives and cake were served in the spacious dining room during the evening by young gentlemen.

The dance was gotten up by the following young ladies: Misses Cora Hilday, Winnie Joslin, Helen Kyle, Helen and May Brown, Ellen Alban, Mayme Spencer, Mary Swain, Edna Ledy, Ella MacKenzie, Ethel Marchant, Lou and Virginia Vaughan and Mrs. Jessie Pridemore.

The girls easily cleared expenses and had a few dollars left over to donate toward another party. They are entitled to great credit for the marked success of the dance.

Death of Jennie Johnson.

After an illness of many months with tuberculosis Miss Jennie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anderson, passed away last Thursday evening at her north side home. The young lady, at the time of her death, was nearly eighteen years of age. Up to about a year ago she was enrolled as a pupil at the local high school. During last summer and part of the fall she held a position as bookkeeper in the Anderson grocery store, but was obliged to give up the work on account of rapidly failing health. Since the beginning of winter she was for the most time confined to her bed. Despite all that constant care and the best of medical aid could accomplish, the hand of the grim destroyer could not be stayed.

The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon from the Norwegian Lutheran church, Rev. Knudson performing the last earthly rites. Interment took place in Forest Home cemetery. The beautiful floral tributes which covered the casket and the long line of carriages which followed the remains to the grave were telling marks of the high esteem in which the dead girl was held by her many friends.

Fred Wedge Injured.

Fred Wedge of this city was slightly injured last Wednesday at Arbor Vitae while at work on a log train. He was caught between the tender of the locomotive and the end of a log, which was of unusual length and protruded from the front car. It was thought at first that his back had been broken but upon examination it was found that aside from being badly bruised, his injuries were not of a serious nature. He is being cared for by friends at Arbor Vitae and will resume work next week. Mr. H. Nichols, the young man's father, whose home is at Hackley, Vilas Co., was in the city yesterday and gave the above information concerning his son's condition, having been at Arbor Vitae the day previous.

Meat Shipments For Japan.

Trains loaded with meat, flour and grain for the Japanese troops in Corea have been passing through this city over the Soo line for weeks past. The products come mostly from Minneapolis and other western points and are shipped by water to their destination from New York City. The big Minneapolis flour mills are now running to their fullest capacity in order to fill the rush orders from the Japanese Government. Twenty-five carloads of meat went through here Tuesday night for the Orient.

Gladstone, Mich., was visited by a fire Sunday night which destroyed three large dwelling houses and resulted in the loss of one life. Members of Soo train crews who make this city their headquarters assisted in fighting the flames.

NEW NORTH.

RECEIVED BY MAILING CO.
RHINELANDER - WISCONSIN

FEBRUARY...1901
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31

Prof. Black, of Wisconsin, declares that there are 97,837,432 bacteria on a one-dollar bill. We knew the number was large, but could never keep the bill long enough to complete the count.

A Brooklyn man recently stole from his employer $2,000 worth of deer skins. He is now serving a term in Sing Sing for working a skin game, and reflecting that they were deer skins indeed.

The wife of the warden of the Norristown (Pa.) jail prevented the escape of two desperate prisoners with an unloaded revolver. The prisoners evidently appreciated the absolute safety of this kind of weapon.

A music writer named Houlahan went mad because he could not write a popular song, and began to bite people. It is very sad, but after all, perhaps it was just a question of his going mad himself or driving his friends mad with his songs.

Every loyal Indiana citizen will be glad to learn, says the Indianapolis Journal, that at the secretary of state's office has been incorporated the Padua Szent Antal Magyarok Egyesulese, a Hungarian organization of the St. Louis district.

The freezing line keeps moving farther south every winter; it begins to seem that it may someday be impossible to grow oranges within the borders of the United States. Northern Florida was once the center of the orange industry; it was given up years ago, and each year the wise growers move their line southward.

Three new uses for radium have been discovered. It is now certain that "liquid sunshine" cures all known diseases, together with a number that have not yet been discovered, prevents hydrophobia, determines the sex of infants and revolutionizes warfare, art, science and labor. It is also suspected that radium will do everything but make hens lay.

Isn't we going to hear any more about that bill introduced by Congressman John R. Thayer, by which each of us is to get eight acres of land? That is a mighty good scheme, and it seems a shame to have the bill tabled. It would be so interesting to see how long it would take before a few dozen men got it all, and the rest of us were no better off than before.

It appears that Whitaker Wright, who committed suicide in London, was not such a great promoter after all. His get-rich-quick schemes were capitalized at only $12,000,000—a mere bagatelle in comparison to the amount named on the paper of some American capitalists of industry. His enterprises almost amounted to cheap gambling, and not "high finance" at all.

The bureau of statistics informs us that the total amount of real money in the world is $12,000,000,000. And when we reflect on the fact that there are about 1,500,000,000 people in the world, and remember how many dollars Messrs. Rockefeller, Morgan, Carnegie and a few others have cornered, the reason why the rest of us can't get in sight of so little cash becomes more apparent.

Col. Arthur Lynch, the only political prisoner in England, has been liberated on parole after one year's imprisonment. This was predicted at the time of his sentence. He was first condemned to death; then his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Thus was the dignity of the English law upheld. The death penalty satisfied the imperialists; the release quieted the Irish and the "little Englanders." Britain would hardly have dared to execute Col. Lynch.

The appointment of Gov. Taft as secretary of war makes the fourth change in the cabinet of Mr. McKinley, as indicated by President Roosevelt. On January 9, 1902, Gov. Shaw, of Iowa, was appointed secretary of the treasury, vice Lyman J. Gage, resigned; on the same date Henry C. Payne, of Wisconsin, was appointed postmaster general, vice Charles E. Smith, resigned; on April 23, 1902, William H. Moody, of Massachusetts, was appointed secretary of the navy, vice John D. Long, resigned, and now Gov. Taft succeeds Mr. Root. The machinery of government runs smooth.

On the United States pension roll is the name of a man who has served in three wars and is 100 years old. He is Thomas E. Sault, of Webb City, Mo., where he conducts a shoe shop and makes a living in spite of his hundred years. He was born in Tennessee in 1802. He was a soldier in the Seminoles, the Mexican and the civil wars. In the civil war he was a sergeant of the Sixth Kansas cavalry. That was after he had passed 50. After the Mexican war he represented the county of his nativity in the Tennessee legislature. His pension is $20 a month by special act.

Now that Canada is all stirred up over the declaration of an English publication that Canadian women are not pretty, it is thought that perhaps strained relations with us in regard to the Alaskan boundary may become unstrained. And in order to push along this declaration, we are willing to declare with solemn enthusiasm, on faith, belief and hearsay, that the Canadian women are the prettiest in the world—outside of the United States. We are brave, but not rash—hence the exception. Do the English people know a stout woman when they see one?

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-EIGHT CONGRESS.

Summary of Daily Proceedings in the Senate and House.

The session of the senate on the 2d was occupied in discussing the Panama canal question and James B. Clarke, the new democratic senator from Arkansas, in a speech endorsed every position taken by the president in connection with the Panama revolt. The committee on appropriations reported in favor of a loan of $4,000,000 to the St. Louis world's fair. In the house the resident commissioner from Porto Rico was given authority equal to that of a delegate from a territory and introduced a bill to declare the citizens of Porto Rico citizens of the United States.

In the United States senate on the 2d the proposed appropriation for a loan of $4,000,000 to the St. Louis exposition was attacked in a debate full of sarcasm and thrusts. A mass of correspondence was received from the president concerning Colombian affairs. In the house bills were introduced providing for an increase in salaries for postal clerks in first and second class offices and for the reorganization of the consular service.

The proposed loan to the St. Louis exposition of $4,000,000 was up for discussion in the senate on the 4th, but instead the senators indulged in a political debate. In the house the diplomatic bill, carrying $1,992,000, was passed, and the agricultural appropriation bill, carrying a total of $2,111,249, was reported.

Ben J. Vilken, general in the Boer forces in the war in the Transvaal, was a guest of President Roosevelt at luncheon.

Heavy increase of storage immigrants to the United States is said to be due to inducements offered by railroads to obtain settlers for the west, northwest and southwest.

Kaiser William talked into a phonograph at the request of United States psychologists, and the records will be preserved at Washington and Harvard university.

Ratification of the Panama canal treaty before the end of this month is the present programme in the United States senate.

The president was a guest of honor at the banquet of the department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic, in Washington, and he paid tribute to the veterans.

Secretary Shaw has notified national banks that 20 per cent of government funds held by them will be needed.

The fleet of the shipbuilding trust owned by C. M. Schwab surrendering control.

In January business failures throughout the country aggregated $15,452,572, against $12,973,579 in January, 1903.

Democratic members of the Maryland legislature selected Isidor Rayner, of Baltimore, for the United States senate.

At a banquet in his honor by the New York Union League club, ex-Secretary of War Root said he returned convinced the government was growing better.

Six fine Arabian horses, a gift from the Sultan of Morocco to President Roosevelt, arrived at New York.

The death of Adolph Schwarzschild, one of the founders of Puck, and editor in chief of that paper, occurred in New York, aged 65 years.

For cheating at examinations five students have been expelled from Princeton (N. J.) university.

When the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse arrived in New York, 48 hours late, thrilling experiences at sea were related.

The mayor of New York ordered six theaters closed because they have not made certain alterations for safety.

In the Maryland legislature Isidor Rayner (dem.), of Baltimore, was elected United States senator to succeed Louis E. McComas.

At the age of 92 years Walter W. Woolworth, the oldest newspaper editor in Michigan, died in Battle Creek. In 1847 he started the first paper in Battle Creek.

Flames in the wholesale district of Knoxville, Tenn., caused a loss of $100,000 and the lives of two firemen.

By a collision between freight trains in El Paso, Tex., Engineer Gillespie, Fireman Daniels and an unidentified brakeman were killed.

At Berea, Ky., a race was threatened by the citizens' appeal for a law against coeducation of negroes and whites at Berea college.

The Illinois democrats will hold their state convention in Springfield June 14. After conferring to electing $187,000, George A. Rose, late cashier of the Produce Exchange bank in Cleveland, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

At the age of 105 years Miss Rose McHugh died in New London, Wis. Snow buried many trails in Michigan and Indiana and traffic on the railroads was practically suspended.

In Chicago 2,600 employees of the American Can company went on strike against a reduction in wages.

Almost the entire business section of Grand Chain, Ill., has been destroyed by fire.

At Carthage, Mo., J. G. Myers, a farmer, starved himself to death. He had not eaten a particle of food for 49 days.

In Detroit boxing bouts have been prohibited by a special order of Mayor Maybury.

A negro named John Winters, who shot and killed John Eastland, a wealthy planter of Decaturville, Miss., was lynched by a mob.

Charles E. Fuller has been recommended for congress by the Twelfth district republican convention at Ottawa, Ill.

At the Logan county children's home in Ohio two twin baby sisters named Black were so badly bitten by rats that they died.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

In a heated speech John Redmond told the British house of commons neither the land act nor any other policy would be accepted as a substitute for home rule.

Russia's fleet sailed from Port Arthur and the Russian land forces were in active preparation for possible hostilities.

The answer of Russia to the latest Japanese demands has been dispatched to Tokyo, and it is considered that the issue of war or peace rests with the Japanese.

A band of Yaqui Indians held up a stage between Orizaba and Las Cruces, Mexico, and the passengers, six in number, were massacred.

Occupation of Cuba by America has finally ended by the withdrawal of the last troops from Havana and the lowering of the flag.

A decree has been issued by Mexico forbidding any person leaving firearms to cross the border of the country.

Florence Maybrick is declared an authority to be a secluded home in England under the care of a religious sisterhood, where she will remain until July, when she will be released.

LATER NEWS.

Advises say that an entire town in the island of Java, Dutch East Indies, has been swallowed up by an volcanic eruption and that hundreds of persons were killed.

Three persons were burned to death in a fire in a small dwelling house in Cadieux street, Montreal, and four others probably seriously injured.

Missouri convict wins $10,000 in cotton deal.

Another accident occurs to the guns of the battleship Iowa.

The insurgents of San Domingo deliberately fired on the launch of the auxiliary cruiser Yankee, killing J. C. Johnson, the engineer. The bullet entered the head above the eye. United States marines may be landed.

The patrons of boarding houses in St. Louis propose to form a union to fight increasing rates.

Moses Wheeler, a veteran of the civil war, was found dead in a hut near La Crosse, Wis., the result of cold and starvation.

A passenger train was derailed near Watertown, N. Y. Deep snow saved the lives of the passengers, although eight were slightly hurt.

Charles Ranaack, of Page county, Iowa, has proven himself to be the champion corn-husker of America.

O. P. Nelson was found near Corydon, Iowa, with his head blown partially off. He was hunting rabbits.

Ten cows broke through the ice near Homestead, N. Y., and were frozen to death.

The funeral of Wm. C. Whitney was held in New York the 2th.

A calman in New York chloroformed Miss Sheldon and robbed her while she was a patron.

Senator Hanna is suffering from typhoid fever.

Henry A. Thorne of Philadelphia was killed by his Great Dane dog, which he was training to fight.

Fire starting from spontaneous combustion, has been burning several days in a big pile of bituminous coal at No. 3 shaft of the steel corporation's Aragon mine at Norway, Mich.

Congress of Chile refuses to pass bill providing for the sale of the battleship Captain Pratt, the protected cruiser Chacabuco, the torpedo gunboats Almirante Condell and Almirante Lynch and the transports Maipo and Acacia.

Porto Ricans do not want native regiment disbanded.

National boxing association is organized at Detroit, Mich.

Leslie W. Halbert, formerly of the district attorney's office of New York and Dr. C. H. Harle, a physician of El Paso, Tex., will be shot some day soon at Chihuahua, Mexico, for many murders committed by means of slow poison.

It is clear that diplomatic relations between Japan and Russia have been broken off. The Russian legation expected its government to break the alliance the 6th, but no communication was received except one announcing the troops had been dispatched to Seoul.

Exhibit palaces of the Louisiana Purchase exposition are ready for the installation of exhibits.

Luther Holbert and wife, negroes, were burned at stake by a Mississippi mob; close of tragedy costing eight lives.

Employment of non-union miners near Knoxville results in a bloody tragedy; four men are dead, one dying, two wounded.

Nearly all the business portion of Baltimore was wiped out by fire causing a loss of $4,000,000. Fortunately no lives were lost.

Ice gorge at Logansport, Ind., may cause severe food.

The Penrod from works at Philadelphia closed down throwing 3,000 men out of work.

General Rafael Reyes, now in the United States was elected president of Colombia.

Late advices from the sickbed of Senator Hanna are not so favorable.

There are 1,025 cases of typhoid fever at Columbus, O.

TWIN CITY MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Feb. 6.
Wheat—No. 1 northern, 94c; No. 2 northern, 90c; May, 92c. Oats—No. 3 white, 41c. Corn—No. 3, 43c. Rye—No. 2, 64c. Barley—No. 2, 45c. Flax—$1.12. Butter—Creamery, extra, 20c; factory, first, 16c; second, 14c. Eggs—14c. Hens, 13c. Turkeys, 9c. Chickens, 7c. Sheep—Uplands, fancy, $1.01.

HANNA'S DOCTORS STILL HOPEFUL

No Reason to Change Belief in His Recovery.

THEY SAY HE IS DOING WELL

Seems to Be Very Confident in Spite of the Fact That His Weakness Is More Marked and Temperature Higher.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Hanna passed Sunday without any radical change in his condition. His extreme weakness was more marked than heretofore and his temperature was a little higher. Those attending him, however, insist there is nothing significant in these conditions and that there are no developments on which to change their expressed belief that the outlook is hopeful for the senator's recovery. There was a consultation of Dr. Hixey and two out of town physicians during the day, but the only important development that transpired as to the consultation was that it had been decided to omit the evening call of the attending physician so as to give the patient more rest. The consultation was held about four o'clock in the afternoon. Those who participated

THE DELAY EXPLAINED—

Perhaps It's the Messenger Boy.

ated beside Dr. Hixey, the surgeon-general of the navy, who is the regular attending physician, were Dr. Oiler, the expert diagnostician of Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore, and Dr. Brewer, of New York, who has frequently attended Senator Hanna in New York and who is familiar with his general condition. Immediately after the consultation the following bulletin was issued: "Senator Hanna is doing well. His morning temperature was a little higher, but the heart's action is good and there are no complications."

It was announced that Dr. Edward Perkins Carter, of Cleveland, Senator Hanna's family physician, will reach here to-day at the request of the senator. Dr. Carter will remain at the Arlington hotel where the senator's apartments are located.

A Restless Night.

The senator was very restless Saturday night and gained little sleep. This, together with the general course of the fever, it is stated, accounts for his weaker condition and increased nervousness Sunday.

The physicians explain that it is to be expected that the fever will increase until the crisis is passed, but they do not make any definite date when that crucial point will be reached.

The senator is taking no nourishment except milk. He is too weak to talk except an occasional few words to those who are attending him, Mrs. Hanna and Miss Phelps, his niece, being the only ones permitted to see him, besides the physicians and trained nurses. Mrs. Hanna has been a steady attendant at his bedside and shows the effects of the strain she is undergoing. She took a long drive Sunday afternoon, which apparently benefited her. Miss Phelps remained at the apartments so as to be present in case her services were needed.

The senator frequently asks for his secretary, Elmer Dover, but pretends to have been used to shift his attention from business matters. Mr. Dover had expected to go to Chicago to attend an important meeting of a subcommittee of the republican national committee, but remained here on account of the senator's condition. Mr. Hanna was not told the reason for Mr. Dover's remaining here and believes that it was due to illness in his secretary's family. He has made frequent inquiries upon this point and Mr. Dover, to avoid having the senator's attention focused on business matters, has found it necessary to avoid seeing the senator except once since the illness reached a serious stage. On that occasion the senator showed that he was devoting considerable thought to business cares and a question about one matter concerning which he wanted to give instructions led him to make numerous other inquiries. It is this mental effort which those attending him are earnestly striving to avoid.

Had Signs.

"Do you believe in signs?" "Yes. Along about the first of the month it is almost a sure sign whenever the postman comes up our steps that he has a few more bills which we had almost forgotten."—Chicago Record-Herald.

All That Saved Him.

Howling-I understand that the physicians held a consultation, but I see you are still alive.

Robbins—Yes. I have since learned that the vote stood two for me and one against—Puck.

WILL PUNISH SAN DOMINGO

Must Answer for Killing of an American Naval Engineer.

Our Government Will Take Proper Action to Avenge Murder on the- ceding Post-Dispatchers.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Mr. Powell, the American minister at San Domingo, has cabled the state department under date of February 1, confirming the press dispatches regarding the assassination of J. G. Johnston, an engineer on the gunboat Yankee. The cruiser Columbia has left San Domingo for Guantanamo. The Hartford has left Puerto Plata for the same place. It is probable that both these vessels will return to Dominican waters. While no definite instructions have been called Minister Powell, it is stated that the American commanders will make every effort to apprehend the parties responsible for the assassination and if captured they will be forthwith disposed of as bandits.

Washington, Feb. 6.—"Send full particulars about assassination of Johnston," is the substance of a cablegram which Secretary Moody Saturday dispatched to Commander Lewis C. Heltner, commanding the gunboat Yankee at Santo Domingo City. When the details of the assassination have arrived the secretary will then be in a position to give specific instructions as to the course to be followed. Deliberation, it can be stated, will

ALL RELATIONS ARE BROKEN OFF

Japan Recalls Her Minister from St. Petersburg.

RUSSIA TAKES LIKE ACTION

Former Government Is Expected to Seize Control at Once—All Hope of Peace Has Been Abandoned.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—It is officially announced that Count Lamsdorf, the Russian foreign minister, has informed Japanese representatives abroad that Japan has decided to break all negotiations with Russia and to withdraw her minister and the entire legation from St. Petersburg, and that upon the receipt of a note to this effect from the Japanese minister Russia had ordered her minister, Baron de Rosen, and the legation staff to leave Tokyo.

Decisive Action Expected.

Tokio, Feb. 6.—The severance of diplomatic relations between Russia and Japan appears to be only a step towards war, although when the ministers of Russia and Japan withdraw from their respective posts quick and decisive action is expected. When Minister of Foreign Affairs Komura on Saturday notified Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister, of Japan's determination to sever diplomatic relations he is reported to have declared to him that Japan is tired of Russia's delays, evasions and insincerity and has decided to take independent action for the conservation of Japan's oriental interests.

Will Seize Corra.

During the final negotiations Japan's repeated requests for an answer were treated in a most unsatisfactory manner. Japan waited until convinced that it was useless to wait longer and has now ended the discussion. The indications are that there will be no formal declaration of war. Japan will publicly define its position and purposes and the foreign office has prepared a new statement which will be announced soon. Today Japan will unquestionably seize Corra, and although Russia has previously intimated that it would not interfere, in view of that country's present attitude, developments are eagerly awaited.

Declares Japan Responsible.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—The Official Messenger publishes the following circular telegram dated February 6th, which has been sent out by the Russian foreign minister to the representatives of the Russian government abroad:

"Acting under instructions from his government the Japanese minister at the imperial court has presented a note which informs the imperial government of the decision of Japan to break off further negotiations and recall her minister and the entire staff at the Japanese legation. In consequence of this his imperial majesty has been pleased to order that the Russian minister at Tokyo with the whole staff of the imperial mission shall leave the capital of Japan without delay. Such an attitude on the part of the Tokyo government, which has not even awaited the arrival of the answer of the imperial government, which was sent off during the last few days, throws the whole responsibility for the consequences which may arise from a rupture of diplomatic negotiations between two empires on Japan."

Came as a Shock.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—Although the fear was general here that the presentation of the Russian note to Japan might be followed by an action on the part of the Japanese government which would plunge the two countries into war, the startling action of Japan in severing diplomatic relations with Russia before the actual delivery of the Russian note came like a bolt from a clear sky. It was believed that the receipt of the note might have unmasked an ultimatum, but that Japan should sever diplomatic relations, a step little short of a declaration of war, was almost like a blow in the face under the present circumstances, and it is regarded here accordingly. The authorities believe this action places Japan distinctly in the wrong before the world, and moreover, after such a "piece of impudence" as it is denominated here, makes easy an appeal to the patriotism of the Russian people.

With war imminent, orders have been given for a rigid censorship over all information relating to naval and military movements. Preparations were also made for the car's journey to the ancient capital, Moscow, where he goes in accordance with the traditional custom of his forefathers to invoke Divine guidance. While the imperial train is passing to Moscow, troops will line every foot of the way.

Declined to Yield Four Points.

When Count Lamsdorf informed M. Kerion on Thursday night that the response had gone to Viceroy Alexieff, he did not give him a copy of it, but it is understood that he made known, in a general way, the Russian position. Russia, while making concessions, declined to yield on the four following points:

First, Japan's right to ask for a treaty covering the sovereignty of Manchuria; second, she insisted upon mutual recognition of the independence of Corea; third, that there should be no fortification of southern Corea which might threaten Russian communications with Port Arthur and Vladivostok, and, fourth, she declined to meet Japan's wishes with regard to a neutral zone on both sides of the Yalu river.

A LITTLE VARIETY.

A man has been fished in Vienna for calling a telephone girl a liar over the wire.

There are three duchesses of Wellington—the widows of the second and third dukes and the reigning duchess.

A study of the Boston tax lists as recently made public shows Joshua M. Sears to be the largest individual taxpayer there. His tax amounts to $70,153.77. Quincy A. Shaw is the second largest contributor to the city treasury, with a tax of $60,262.40.

IN THE GRASP OF THE FIRE FIEND

Terrible Conflagration Rages in the City of Baltimore.

FIREMEN UNABLE TO CHECK IT

At Midnight Twenty Blocks in Business District Had Been Destroyed—The Loss May Reach $10,000,000.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 6.—A fire which broke out at a few minutes before 11 o'clock Sunday morning in the wholesale dry goods house of John E. Hurst & Co., has raged with unrestrained fury continuously ever since, and at midnight it was still unchecked, and was steadily eating its consuming way eastward on Baltimore street, after having destroyed almost all of the large stores and warehouses in the wholesale district around Hopkins' place and all the buildings on both sides of Baltimore street from Howard to Holliday street from Charles and Baltimore to Charles and Lexington, and on Fayette street from Charles to Holliday, including a total of about 20 blocks of the most modern and substantial buildings in Baltimore, involving a loss which cannot now be estimated, but which has certainly already reached $5,000,000 or $10,000,000.

Firemen Powerless.

Ever since about six o'clock, when darkness came, the fire department, although aided by engines from Washington, Philadelphia, Wilmington and the surrounding counties and suburbs, has been utterly powerless to make any effective resistance to the consuming element, though for hours as many as 400 streams of water were thrown into the flames. Indeed, so terrific has been the heat ever since the fire started and so dense and suffocating the volume of flying sparks and burning cinders, that it was difficult for the firemen to stand long within fighting distance of the flames, while early in the afternoon several trucks and engines were hopelessly disabled by timbers.

Buildings Dynamited.

At seven o'clock the situation was so desperate that Chief Horton decided that the only thing left to do was to dynamite buildings at threatened points, and thus prevent, as far as possible, a further spread of the flames. In pursuance of this plan, a number of buildings on South Charles street between German and Lombard were blown up. Subsequently the splendid structure of J. W. Putts & Co., notion dealers at Charles and Fayette streets, was dynamited, and then the Daily Record building, Ross' drug store and others.

Prominent Buildings Burned.

Following the rapid destruction of the palatial commercial buildings in the wholesale district the cyclone of roaring flames burst into Baltimore street, licking within a few minutes the seven-story Mullins hotel like some insatiable monster and rapidly rolling with irresistible force both eastward and westward, cutting down in its wrathful wake wholesale and retail houses, manufacturing shops, jewelry stores, furniture emporiums and restaurants.

At Charles street the remorseless tide swept on down Baltimore street, but also turned into Charles street where it quickly engulfed the 11-story Union Trust building, starting eastward on Fayette street.

Newspaper Forces Driven Out.

By eight o'clock the publishers and other occupants of the Daily Herald building, at Fayette and St. Paul streets, and of the

A. P. Lyman, the oldest pioneer
Shirboygan, died at the age of 90 years.
At one time he owned the largest number of sailing vessels on Lake Michigan.

Mutual Interests SERVED, Mutual Benefits RECEIVED.

Buying in the wholesale markets for cash; adding to the cost only a sufficient percentage to cover running expenses, and selling the consumer for cash, will enable the household-er to make a large saving on each month's purchases of

MEATS AND GROCERIES.

—THIS IS THE PLAN OF THE—

Co-operative Store Co.

If you are interested in a plan for saving money be- come a stockholder. Shares in the Company are offered at $25. For particulars consult

Matt. Stapleton, RHINELANDER, WIS.

The Yankee Twist.
The beginning of an international misunderstanding or the continuation of an old one is contained in this dialogue from the Philadelphia Ledger:
"You can always tell an Englishman," said the Briton proudly.
"Of course you can," replied the Yankee, "but it doesn't do any good."

The Great Secret.
Towne—You say it's impossible for a woman to keep a secret?
Brown—Yes.
Towne—How about her age?
Brown—She doesn't keep that a secret. She merely tries to—Philadelphia Press.

A Kick on Tailors.
Clerk—I want more salary, sir, because I am going to be married.
Employer—But I don't believe in "tailors" raising the price of labor.—Puck

Look Higher.
Never cultivate second or third rate folk except for artistic purposes. Meet them, if you must; leave them when you can. You need expect nothing from them that they can conscientiously withhold, for they are after your goods while keeping a strict and jealous watch upon their own. All you can get from them is material, never any spiritual, intellectual, wise, sane or moral or helpful messages.

Just Like a Woman.
"Ebe's running a correspondence school; teaches the secret of success."
"Just like a woman to tell secrets."—Detroit Free Press.

You might shed your blood for some fellows, but they would never understand the sacrifice.—Schoolmaster.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS.

(OFFICIAL PUBLICATION.)

The following report of Committee on Poor and Pauper accounts was read:
To the Board of Supervisors of Oneida County, Wis: Gentlemen—Your Committee on Poor and Pauper accounts beg leave to report that they have examined the following bills referred to them, and recommend that they be allowed, disallowed or disposed of as set forth in the schedule hereto annexed.

Dated December 1st, 1907.

No.	Name	Nature of Claim	Amt. clm'd & allowed
1	B. L. Horr, merchandise		$24.25
2	Hans Anderson, merchandise		5.25
3	St. Mary's Hospital, board and nursing of Gust. Andrew		15.00
4	F. A. Hildebrand, undertaking		7.50
5	J. A. Whiting, services		2.00
6	E. C. Vessey & Son, merchandise		15.01
7	H. J. Sparks, teaming, Hall family		3.00
8	E. C. Vessey & Son, merchandise		10.00
9	W. D. Joslin, livery, etc.		2.00
10	J. J. Lubold, 200 cabbages		10.00
11	Wm. Harrell, merchandise		53.17
12	City of Rhinelander, supplies for St. Raymond, quarantined		64.50
13	A. G. Haasgalt, stock, services		2.00
14	Brown Bros. Lumber Company, wood		2.00
15	St. Mary's Hospital, board of McLurey		40.00
16	F. A. Hildebrand, withdrawn
17	Spafford & Cole, merchandise		52.45
18			7.50
19	C. H. Reepke, merchandise		1.00
20	E. A. Gifford, care of patient		2.00
21	J. J. Gibson, blacksmithing		24.46
22	Robbins Lumber Co., wood		53.50

Moved by Supervisor Brown and seconded by Supervisor Jewell that the report be adopted as read, and the chairman and clerk instructed to draw orders for same as allowed in said report. Carried, all of the supervisors voting aye.

Supervisor Brown called to chair.
The following report of Committee on General Claims was read:
To the Board of Supervisors of Oneida County, Wis: Gentlemen—Your committee on General Claims beg leave to report that they have examined the following bills referred to them, and recommend that they be allowed, disallowed or disposed of as set forth in the schedule hereto annexed.

Dated December 2nd, 1907.

No.	Name	Nature of Claim	Amt. clm'd & allowed
1	Lewis Hardware Co., merchandise		17.50
2	Hans Anderson, clothing for prisoners		1.25
3	Wm. W. Carr, service sales of county land		20.00
4	City of Rhinelander, repaving sidewalks		11.25
5	J. H. Queal & Co., lumber		2.00
6	J. C. Miller & Co., diagrams, etc.		12.50
7	J. C. McLaughlin, stock, services		10.41
8	F. M. Mason, incidental		2.00
9	F. A. Hildebrand, merchandise and repaving		14.85
10	John O'Hare, labor		12.00
11	Wm. W. Carr, postage, express, etc.		35.47
12	Rhineland Printing Co., printing		57.12
13	Dana & Wood, hardware		67.42
14	H. Nickelson Co., books and stationery		15.75
15	Paul Browne, postage and express		2.45

L. H. WHEELER,
OTTO BOCK,
M. L. FITZGERALD,
WM. HARRELL,
FRANK HUNTLEY, Com.

26	Rhineland Printing Co., stand lamp	5.00
27	J. H. Queal & Co., lumber	17.50
28	H. P. Merrill, furniture	41.67
29	W. F. Ball, ice	13.75
30	Rhineland Printing Co., sockets and lamps	32.00
31	J. J. Reardon, medicine	13.50
32	W. D. Joslin, livery	2.00
33	H. L. Garner, postmortem	25.00
34	C. D. Thompson, stationery, blanks, etc.	12.10
35	City of Rhinelander, water service	57.00
36	S. H. Ashton, supplies	18.75
37	C. E. Cruse & Co., carpet	151.75
38	R. M. Douglas, postage	3.00
39	H. Lewis, clothing	15.00
40	Olaf Goldstrand, committee work	15.00
41	H. G. Randall Mfg. Co., charts	9.00
42	J. G. Dunn, freight	3.81
43	E. C. Sturdevant, clerk of county fees	20.85
44	Thos. Innes, plumbing	20.00
45	Julius Follstad, committee work	4.50
46	E. B. Crofoot, committee work	15.85
47	W. H. Trumbull, printing	50.00
48	Rhineland Herald, printing	50.00
49	E. C. Sturdevant, disbursements	18.75
50	E. C. Sturdevant, clerk of court fees	81.25
51	Gust. Smith, mason work	47.21
52	Wm. W. Carr, witness fees	3.00
53	S. H. Miller, disbursements	62.10
54	Town of Sugar Camp, smallpox cases	19.25
55	H. Lewis, clothing	11.25
56	Rhineland Printing Co., printing	43.00
57	W. F. Ball, ice	4.00
58	G. C. Piggy, sharpening tools	4.00
59	Theo. Johnson, labor on jail	3.20
60	Green, Fairchild, North and Parker, legal services

11 Wm. W. Carr, care of smallpox cases at Jeffers 35.00
20 Packard and Farmer, operating on Frank McBurney 20.00
21 Town of Newbold, refund of reassessment 1,102.10 disallowed
Moved by Supervisor Follstad and seconded by Supervisor Fitzgeral that the report of the committee be adopted as read and the chairman and clerk instructed to draw orders for same as allowed in said report, carried, the supervisors voting as follows: Brown, Bock, Crofoot, Follstad, Fitzgeral, Goldstrand, Harrell, Hunter, Jewell, Lubold and Smith (11) voting aye and Wabker (1) voting no.

On motion General Claims Nos. 11 and 20 were referred to the Dist. Atty.

The following report of Committee on Sheriff and Justice accounts was read:

To the County Board of Supervisors of Oneida Co., Wis: Gentlemen—

Your committee on Sheriff and Justice accounts beg leave to report that they have examined the following bills referred to them, and recommend that they be allowed, disallowed or disposed of as set forth in the schedule hereto annexed.

Dated December 5th, 1907.

No.	Name	Nature of Claim	Amt. clm'd	Amt. allowed
1	Mike Kearns, sheriff fees		7.50	7.50
2	" " disbursements		4.58	4.58
3	" " warrant for Hausmass		14.20	14.20
4	" " sheriff fees		33.91	33.91
5	" " conveying C. Davis to Sparta		20.62	20.62
6	" " conveying Isaac		62.10	62.10
7	" " work in Gus Newman case		20.00	disallowed
8	" " board of jurors		94.50	94.50
9	" " conveying Isaac		45.50	45.50
10	" " conveying Isaac		16.77	17.21
11	" " board of jurors		150.50	119.64
12	" " sheriff fees		21.49	21.49
13	" " conveying Isaac		42.50	42.50
14	" " sheriff fees		21.68	21.68
15	" " conveying St. John to Green Bay		25.49	25.49
16	Martin Johnson, care of body of Andrew Jackson		2.00	2.00
17	" " board of prisoner Tomahawk Lake		5.00	disallowed
18	E. Gifford, care of Gust. Johnson insane		28.00	poor com.
19	S. R. Stone, examination of insane		30.00	30.00
20	Dr. Welch, examination of M. Welch		4.00	4.00
21	C. D. Packard, " of Isaac		12.00	12.00
22	T. B. McIndoe, " " "		40.00	40.00
23	P. L. Himmann, " " "		4.00	4.00
24	H. L. Garner, " " "		4.00	4.00
25	J. M. Hogan, post mortem John Johnson		25.00	25.00
26	" " examination of Welch insane		4.00	4.00
27	T. B. Stewart, examination of J. Paulson insane		4.00	4.00
28	P. L. Welch, post mortem Andrew Jackson		50.00 com. of whole
29	" " examination of John Paulson insane		4.00	4.00
30	" " " " " "		4.00	4.00
31	American Law Book Co., Vol. 7, U. S. C.		6.00	6.00
32	Callaghan & Co., Bailey's Digest Vol. 7, U. S. C.		6.00	6.00
33	American Law Book Co., duplicate of No. 31		12.50	12.50
34	Joe Katz, care of body of J. C. Johnson		4.00	disallowed
35	D. R. Thomson, copy of files		17.00	17.00
36	Andrie & Himmann, probate blanks		12.00	10.00
37	Paul Browne, telephone bills		3.65	3.65
38	P. A. Winneman, post mortem Andrew Jackson		2.00	2.00
39	P. M. Himmann, first verdicts		50.00 com. of whole
40	P. M. Mason, inquest John C. Johnson		2.00	disallowed
41			11.49	11.49

TO THE RENTERS of HOMES!

Have you ever stopped to consider that the money you pay out each month for rent could easily be turned toward paying for a home of your own and that in the course of a few years you would

OWN A HOME.

Better decide to build. Bring us your bill and let us give you an estimate on what the material would cost you. We carry a complete line of building material and are able to give you figures that will certainly please you.

Call up Phone 72.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Never cared much for a Bell—
When he saw my name on the wall
I would have been just like him.
Then he saw I was a doctor
But at night when I'd been out
Apple green, as all that I'd
With a dose of castor oil.
Holy Moses, but I loved it
More than tongue or pen can tell.
Every child he dreamed of Saying Willie had a wife.
Then they'd grab that horrid little
Trine of the old that vile
And they'd pour into my stomach
'Till a quart of castor oil.
But old boy druggist Reardon
Him who kept the corner store
Took the pack and gave me castor
Caster for the very more.
Talk about your milk and honey?
Or your taffy-laced apple?
They said in Rhine for a minute
With that fastidious castor oil.
Wh! I was a full-fledged doctor
Hilly God! But I would smile
To make every kid in Rhine
Talk about his milk and honey.
Hope your Reardon comes to Rhine.
And he will, you bet, in style.
That's the best one I ever druggist
How to make a sweet castor oil.

The above was picked up on the street and handed in to Reardon's drug store. The M. S. was written on the back of a piece of examination paper. The boy who wrote it was 12 years old and was named William. He stood 21 in height, 114 in weight, 14 in chest, 102 in waist, 102 in hip, 102 in arm, 102 in leg, 102 in foot. Reardon's Tasteless Castor Oil costs 15 cents per bottle. Never sold in bulk.

J. J. REARDON, Druggist.
RHINELANDER, WIS.

The Crowds Grow Greater as the Bargains Become Better Known —AT THE— CHICAGO SALVAGE CO.'S Sale of the J. P. Hansen Stock

—Positively the Last Week— J. P. Hansen Stand, Rhinelander, Wis.

The Prices we quote below will continue as long as the goods last.

The building we now occupy is soon to undergo extensive alterations that will in all probability suspend business for us for an indefinite period and owing to the fact that we find ourselves with an enormous stock of High Grade Tailor Made Clothing, Furnishing Goods and Hats on hand we were compelled to sacrifice our entire stock and have placed it in the hands of the Chicago Salvage Co., the world's greatest bargain givers, and will be sold by them at 33 per cent. less than their actual cost to manufacture.

Everything Sold Exactly as Advertised

And the World's greatest clothing sale began at

RHINELANDER

Wednesday, February 3, at 9 a. m.

J. P. HANSEN'S STAND

and will close in 10 days.

It will pay you to come 100 miles to visit this gigantic sale of Oneida County's greatest clothier's entire stock to be sold at 33 per cent. less than actual cost to manufacture.

Owing to the fact that J. P. Hansen has arranged with the workmen to begin their work of altering the building immediately at the conclusion of this sale, our sale will continue for only 10 days and every thing will go rapidly. This is the first sale (being a strictly legitimate sale where a well known and reliable firm is to continue in business) of its kind that has ever occurred in the state and it may never occur again. We merely quote you a few of the many bargains to be offered, and bear in mind there are thousands of other bargains we cannot mention here.

Men's Fine Overcoats in English Ulster cloths, also kerry's, meltons and leathers in black, blue and brown, some Italian lined, others worsted, silk sleeve linings, lapped seams. $4.98

This coat is positively worth $15 or money back.

Men's Overcoats in English covert cloths, also kerry's and Irish (rice stamped). Worth $15 and the peer of any coat offered in Wisconsin for $20 or your money back. $6.98

Men's Fine Suits and Overcoats $7.98

This enables you to pick and choose a suit, overcoat or single frock coat for $7.98. It is a $20.00 $22.00 quality. This suit comes in those soft duffel velvets and chevrons, so soft and pleasant to the touch, also in fancy worsteds and wire twist tweeds, silk finish trimmings. The overcoats show up in those handsome pilot beavers, so popular with young men.

Overcoats of Imported Carr's XXX melton and standard kerry's. $7.98

Positively and actually worth $20 in any wholesale house in the United States.

Another high grade coat is that well known market effect, slash pockets, 45 inches long, in five different shades, some silk, some satin lined. $9.98

Equal to custom made and worth $25.00 or your money back for the asking.

At $4.98 each you are free to choose a Suit or Overcoat worth $22.50 to $25.00 and 20 lots of as finely made and as elegantly finished Suits and Overcoats as the most fashionable dressmaker could desire. Home and foreign suitings and overcoatings of style and tone, and a great variety of effects, tailored into garments of faultless fashion—kerry melton whipcord overcoats; black, blue, brown, tan and drab, diagonal chevrons, vicuna, homespun, tweed, etc. $8.98

and cashmere suits, single and double breasted.

Men's Fine Suits and Overcoats $6.98

Men's Overcoats in English covert cloths, also kerry's and Irish (rice stamped). Worth $15 and the peer of any coat offered in Wisconsin for $20 or your money back. $6.98

Men's Fine Suits and Overcoats $7.98

This enables you to pick and choose a suit, overcoat or single frock coat for $7.98. It is a $20.00 $22.00 quality. This suit comes in those soft duffel velvets and chevrons, so soft and pleasant to the touch, also in fancy worsteds and wire twist tweeds, silk finish trimmings. The overcoats show up in those handsome pilot beavers, so popular with young men.

Overcoats of Imported Carr's XXX melton and standard kerry's. $7.98

Positively and actually worth $20 in any wholesale house in the United States.

Another high grade coat is that well known market effect, slash pockets, 45 inches long, in five different shades, some silk, some satin lined. $9.98

Equal to custom made and worth $25.00 or your money back for the asking.

At $4.98 each you are free to choose a Suit or Overcoat worth $22.50 to $25.00 and 20 lots of as finely made and as elegantly finished Suits and Overcoats as the most fashionable dressmaker could desire. Home and foreign suitings and overcoatings of style and tone, and a great variety of effects, tailored into garments of faultless fashion—kerry melton whipcord overcoats; black, blue, brown, tan and drab, diagonal chevrons, vicuna, homespun, tweed, etc. $8.98 and cashmere suits, single and double breasted.

THE CHICAGO SALVAGE CO. Now Selling The J. P. HANSEN STOCK RHINELANDER.

Opposite Postoffice, 112 Brown Street.

It's Refreshing
at billiards or bowling—is a glass or two of Rhinelander beer. Refreshing always, makes the score larger and sends one home in a happy mood, prepared for a sound and refreshing sleep and ready for business the next day, night, morning or noon day. Rhinelander beer is a good beverage for the average man.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS
A. J. MUNN & CO.
Attorneys at Law
A. J. MUNN & CO. 301 Broadway, New York
A. J. MUNN & CO. 301 Broadway, New York
A. J. MUNN & CO. 301 Broadway, New York

Do You Want Good Things to Eat? OF COURSE YOU DO. Everyone Does and Should. Van Camp's Hominy

In 3 pound cans is the real thing.
You will never know what you have missed if you don't buy it.

HORR, The Grocer.
Dealer in Good Things to Eat.

Bits of Local Gossip

H. Lewis, the one-price clothier, leads them all.
Hugh Hider has returned to Sturgeon Bay.
A. Jay Bolger was down from Milwaukee Saturday.
Miss Ellen Minahan departed for Wausau Monday.
Aaron Lindgren was at Lac du Flambeau Monday.
Mrs. A. McNabb of Malvern was in Rhinelander Tuesday.
Dr. and Mrs. G. G. Bellis were in from Bundy Saturday.
C. J. Hantson and wife were over from Woodboro Saturday.
Merritt McLaughlin of Elcho Sunday in the city.
Martha Taggart is being entertained by his brother in Tomahawk.
District Attorney Walsh of Cranston was seen on our streets Saturday.
Oscar Jenne and George Marshall were over from Woodboro during the week.
Dr. T. R. Welsh was at Three Lakes and Bundy yesterday on professional business.
B. D. Stevens will speak in the Baptist Church Sunday morning. (Come and hear him.)
R. C. Wassburg of Milwaukee talked again to his Rhinelander customers yesterday.
Mrs. John Cysle left Monday for Ashland to make a visit with relatives and friends.
C. M. Paulson, a North side resident, is again able to be around after a long illness.
Mrs. Harry Johnston was confined to her bed several days of last week with a gripe.
Lost—Bunch of keys with Masonic Accident Association tag attached. Finder please leave at this office.
Under-Sheriff Dolan and Chief of Police Matteson made a drive into the country Friday night on official business.
Neat invitations are out announcing St. Valentine's dance to be given by young people at the Armory Friday night.
E. L. Herring of Ashland, traveling auditor for Armour & Co., was in town this week checking up accounts at the local branch house.
Richard Bloedorn, formerly employed here by the North-Western road as cashier, is now ticket agent for the company at Antigo.
A. W. Thorpe, the new Three Lakes physician, made a call here Friday. Dr. Thorpe recently assisted Dr. T. R. Welch of this city in a surgical operation.
Miss Harriett Kyle returned to her home in Darlington yesterday morning after a visit of two weeks with her sisters, Mrs. H. Ashton and Miss Bess Kyle in this city.
Brown Bros. Lumber Co. have purchased the logs being put in this winter by Geo. Stelmets at Columbus Lake near Eagle River. The timber was formerly owned by Colman Bros.
Mrs. Thos. Keefe of Ashland is in the city visiting at the home of Mrs. F. A. Hildebrand and Mrs. Manning. The lady will be remembered by our people as Miss Nellie Sullivan, a former teacher in the city schools.
T. J. Kelley, prominently known in railroad circles in this section, died last week at Hilbert after an illness with typhoid pneumonia. In the early days Mr. Kelley was a conductor on the old Lake Shore road.
John Boland, who is logging on an extensive scale in the neighborhood of Eagle River, was in the city Monday. John reports operations in the woods as progressing favorably and the banner cut will be made this season.
Geo. Langley of Merrill was at the Fuller House Friday. Mr. Langley is more than pleased with the way in which logging operations are progressing this season and says that the timber cut will run larger than the loggers' highest expectations.
Henry Wabker of the Town of Newbold is scaling this winter for the Stevens Lumber Co., which firm has purchased the timber now being logged on the Wisconsin river near the old McNaughton station. Over one million and half feet have already been landed on the ice.

J. P. Hansen, the leading clothier in Rhinelander.
Miss Mary Doud of West Lebanon is visiting in the city.
Attorneys A. W. Shelton and H. G. Kemp were in Wausau Thursday.
For Sale—Team of 200 lbs. Call at Rhinelander Brewing Co. 11-11-21.
Mrs. Patrick Taggart is visiting her son Maunford Taggart at Tomahawk.
Mrs. Kate McIndoe entertained her lady friends at cards Friday afternoon.
Claude Cole was up from Elcho and Sunday with his brother Dempster and family.
Mrs. George Humery and daughter Esther of Lac du Flambeau were in the city Friday.
Mrs. G. Root of La Crosse arrived in the city Friday morning to make a visit with Mrs. Gilles.
The Social Tea Club met at the home of Mrs. Nettie Hamilton on Lincoln street Friday.
N. T. Baldwin went to Monroe Monday to look after a job of paper hanging and decorating.
Mrs. Neal Driscoll of Wausau has been visiting with her brother Larry Nolan in the town of Newbold.
Miss Nellie Plugh has returned from Oshkosh, after completing her two years' course at the Normal.
Howard Robbins was in Milwaukee and other southern points on business the last end of the week.
Thomas Jones went over to Eagle River Monday morning, where he has several jobs of plumbing on hand.
No services were conducted at St. Mary's church yesterday and today owing to the absence of Rev. Schmitz.
Miss Ida Link arrived in the city Saturday from Green Bay to make a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Trumbull.
Miss Ada McRae was down from Manitowish where she is teaching to spend Sunday at her home on Brown street.
Mrs. Hattie Roley returned Thursday to her home in Oshkosh after a visit on the south side with her, Mrs. J. I. Cox.
G. P. Alexander has moved into his new home on Stevens street which he lately purchased from Mrs. Fred. Barnes.
Miss Charlotte Steffens very pleasantly entertained a number of her lady and gentleman friends Saturday evening.
Fred. Knoblock, a North-Western fireman, is now running on the day passenger trains on the Antigo-Ashland division.
John Lewis of Antigo and Hugh Lewis of Portage were called here Monday by the death of their mother, Mrs. H. O. Lewis.
The Fish & Mullen Lumber Co. has been incorporated at Elcho with a capital stock authorized at $20,000, claim all paid.
Jas. Trumbull, deputy organizer for the Bricklayers & Masons Union, leaves soon for Wausau where he will organize a branch lodge.
Martin Griffin has severed his connections with the Hatten Lumber Co. as general overseer at Elcho and has returned to his home in Stevens Point.
The annual meeting of the state assessors will be held at Madison Wednesday, Feb. 21th. Supervisor of Assessments Carl Krueger of this city will attend.
The remains of Conductor Thomas Hambleton, who was accidentally killed at Tomahawk last week, were taken to his old home at Windsor, Ont., for burial.
George Kline, a brakeman on the Ashland division of the North-Western road, had one of his fingers badly pinched, Saturday, while making a coupling at Appleton Junction.
John Schwartz, who up to recently had charge of the local 800 yards has been assigned to a through freight run between Rhinelander and Sault Ste. Marie. Frank LaGage will now have permanent charge of the yards here.
Birds work for man from the first glimmer of light.
Rocky Mountain Tea works for mankind both day and night.
That's why it is famous the world over and o'er.
It will not let you turn over and take another snore.
J. J. Reardon.

Calumet Baking Powder

Perfect in quality.
Moderate in price.

Justice Matt. Reed of Woodruff was in the city Monday.
FOR RENT—Two good office rooms. Enquire at this office.
Dry 16 inch and foot soft wood for sale. Inquire of Ernest Henning, 55 Dry tannery road for sale. 16 inch and foot. Inquire of S. Kelly, city. Jan 20-21

John Palmer of Lac du Flambeau attended the Leap Year party at the Armory Friday evening.

Axel Lindgren and family are living in the house recently vacated by G. P. Alexander on the south side.

St. Mary's church, Sunday services: Low Mass and Communion, 8:00 a. m.; High Mass, 10:00 a. m.; Vespers, 7:30 p. m.; Rev. Fr. P. Schmitz pastor.

Wm. Winters, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., stopped off in this city Monday on his way to Antigo. The gentleman is a baker by trade and is thinking of engaging in the bakery business here.

Pretty Miss Nellie Hasecomb, Omaha: "I owe my good looks and health to Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Have fully regained my health." Tea or tablets, 25 cents. J. J. Reardon.

The ice being cut from Room Lake this week by W. F. Hall, is thirty-four inches in thickness. This fact gives one a better idea of what the present winter has really been—when it comes to intense cold.

A Retail Merchants Association has been organized at Antigo to protect the store men from "dead beats." The same movement was started among the merchants in this city last spring and has proven a great success.

Word from E. G. Squier who with his wife is spending the winter at Hot Springs, Ark., states that he is feeling fine. The presence there of a numerous string of horses helps materially to make time pass pleasantly.

The Athearn Hotel at Ashland was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning. The blaze is supposed to have originated from the crossing of electric light wires. The loss placed at $15,000 with $9,000 insurance. About one hundred guests were in the building at the time but all escaped.

The farewell letter from Archbishop Messmer to the Catholics of the Green Bay diocese was read to St. Mary's congregation Sunday morning at both masses by Rev. Fr. P. Schmitz. The archbishop departed for the Milwaukee archdiocese, his new field, yesterday. He left Green Bay in the forenoon in a special train over the Northwestern road, arriving at Milwaukee in the afternoon. He was accompanied on his journey by a large number of priests from the various dioceses.

IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

B. F. Wilson was down from Star Lake Saturday.
S. B. Gary was down from Arbor Vitae Saturday.
W. S. Manning of Ladysmith was in town last Friday.
E. O. Perron, an Escanaba man, was in Rhinelander Saturday.
Otto Rock, chairman of the Town of Three Lakes, was in the city Monday.
Miss Martha Meyers and Walter Hill of Monroe were visitors in the city last Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Edahl of Lac du Flambeau attended the Leap Year dancing party here Friday evening.
Louis John, head scaler and woodsman for the Alex. Stewart Lumber Co., was up from Wausau Monday.
Julius Fallstad and family of Elcho attended the funeral of Miss Jennie Johnson in this city, Sunday.
E. R. Wareham of the Wisconsin-Michigan Lbr. and Bark Co. of Hackley was in our city Friday in the interests of his firm.

A. Hein of Tony, one of that town's main business men and head of the Hein Lumber Company was at the Rapids House Sunday.

Thomas Lavin returned yesterday morning to Star Lake to resume his position with Langley & Alderson after spending three weeks here.

John Kempf of Madison, State Insurance Commissioner, was in the city Saturday. While here he made the Rapids House his headquarters.

Wilson Roller, who has been sitting on a loggia under at Star Lake, came down yesterday to accept a position with the Rhinelander Paper Company.

O. A. Jenne went to Florida this week on his annual trip to look over the Wood Lumber Company's business in that state. He will be absent several weeks.

A. M. Arpin of Bruce of the well known Arpin Company, loggers and lumber manufacturers, was in the city last Thursday. The Arpin Co. operates several big camps along the Soo line west of Pentice and in the Chippewa valley.

H. C. Fay of Minneapolis, the Soo line news agent, who was arrested at Sault Ste. Marie recently on a charge of larceny, was dismissed in court yesterday on the payment of a fine of $100 and costs. Fay was known here.

It isn't how much cold cream a woman puts on her face but how much Rocky Mountain Tea she takes that brings out real beauty. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea complexion stay. Treats. Tea or tablets J. J. Reardon.

It is said that it is now "a sure thing" in regard to the St. Paul road removing its division point from Bolebrook to Tomahawk. Wausau and Merrill, both of which towns were after the division, are now out of the race.

Louis Dredge, an employee of Harry Baxter's camp near this city, was struck on the head by a falling limb Tuesday morning and an ugly gash inflicted. Several stitches of the surgeon's needle were required to close the wound.

Thomas Redfield, yard master here for the North-Western road, departed for Milwaukee last Thursday in answer to a telegram announcing the serious illness of his aged mother. The lady at one time resided here a host of friends who hope for her recovery.

The condition of Mike Glass, the well known cigar manufacturer, who has been dangerously ill for the past two weeks, is at the present writing greatly improved and the outlook is bright for his entire recovery. He is confined in his room in the Fabst building on Stevens street.

A crew of plasterers are at work this week re-plastering the walk and ceiling of F. A. Hildebrand's furniture store on Brown street. After they have completed their task the place will be turned over to the decorator. Mr. Hildebrand will have one of the neatest stores in the city.

The monthly public service of the Junior Congregational church will be held next Sunday evening at 7:30. The service will be in form of a Washington-Lac du Flambeau anniversary. The junior choir of twenty voices has been provided with choral caps and sashes. The public is invited. Members of G. A. R. Post are especially invited to be present.

Ole Olson was presented at the Grand last Saturday night was far from being the success that one had reason to think it would be. Ben Hendricks as the green Swedish man was the only feature worth mentioning and he was but ordinary in the part. The company work was disappointing to the management of the Grand as well as to the audience attendance.

Harve Selick, formerly proprietor of the Milwaukee House at Milwaukee, has made the purchase of a large farm in Michigan and will live upon the property as soon as he has closed out his business interests in this section. Harve has acquired a wide acquaintance during his long residence in Northern Wisconsin and it is to be regretted that he is to leave the state.

The Milwaukee Valley Lumberman says that the pockets of Northern Wisconsin farmers are bulging with greenbacks. The log market was better so active and fair prices being from $20 to $22 per thousand; hemlock $6.50 to $7.50; basswood, elm and maple from $8 to $11 per thousand. Hub timber, post and pulp wood at relative high prices.

CRUSOE'S DEPT. STORE.

CAN YOU USE ANY OF THESE? LOOK THEM OVER AND NOTE THE SAVING PRICES.

Women's $12.00 and $15.00 coats—not the last set but a good style	5.00	Women's $1.75 (one-buckle) aprons	98c
One fine black astrachan $15.00 fur Jacket	$33.50	Women's $1.25 warm slippers	69c
One $10.00 Black Astrachan Jacket	$29.50	Boys' $2.50 two-piece suits	$1.59
One elegant Wood Seal Jacket $20.00 gold at	$37.50	Boys' $2.00 two-piece suits	$1.19
Boys' $5.00 long pants suits	$3.90	Boys' $3.50 long pants suits	$3.69
Men's $3.50 flannel-lined canvas coats	$2.48	Children's 2 to 8, 10 to 50c shoes	69c
$2.50 Gray Machine Wash Jacket	$2.29	Girls' $1.25 School Shoes 1 1/2 to 2	98c
$6.50 Sheep Lined Coats	$3.50	Boys' satin calf shoes 12 to 2	85c
Small Girls' $1.25 wool sweaters	48c
$1.50 sheep lined coats $2.25
Men's best $2.50 flannel shirts $1.19

A crew of carpenters are at work this week remodeling the first floors of the Masonic temple on Stevens street and getting the interior in readiness for Stapleton's new cooperative store. Matt. hopes to have the enterprise in operation by April 1st. The stock of goods will arrive about the middle of next month.

Almer Coats was down town yesterday for the first time in several weeks. Mr. Coats' health of late has not been of the best and for most of the time he has been confined to his bed. He feels a great deal better at present and his friends look for a steady improvement from now on.

M. McKernott goes to western Canada in the spring where he will make the purchase of several hundred acres of fine farming lands for himself and other local parties. Providing he finds the country to his liking he will move his family and take up his permanent residence there.

"Old Jeff," a well known city character, who has been working in Harry Baxter's camp, from his left thumb so severely Monday morning that the member will have to be amputated. His home is in Milwaukee and surgeons there will perform the operation. He departed Tuesday evening for that city.

Fred. Langlois, proprietor of the south side meat market, served a fish dinner to a number of his friends Saturday evening. The menu consisted of fish a la mode, and numerous other dainty dishes prepared by the host and was immensely enjoyed by those who partook of the feast.

W. N. Cash, the Wisconsin Telephone Company's new manager, was over from Merrill Tuesday and yesterday looking after the company's local interests. While here he installed a long distance 'phone in the lumber office of Mason & Donaldson and removed a 'phone from Paul Browne's office.

Samuel Bishop of Whitewater passed away Saturday after an illness of several months. Deceased was seventy-eight years of age and one of the oldest practicing attorneys in the state. He leaves a wife and three children, namely: Mrs. R. Blackburn of Milwaukee, Miss Ada Bishop of Wilmington, S. C., and Geo. W. Bishop of this city.

Julius Frank of Milwaukee, who two years ago purchased from Henry Wulker three forty of land in the Town of Newbold, is in Rhinelander this week. Mr. Frank will move his family on the land in the spring and become one of the county's permanent residents. He is an expert machinist and has worked for years at the trade in Milwaukee.

John O'Hare, assistant filer in the mill of the Flambeau Lumber Co., arrived in the city last Friday suffering with blood poisoning in his left hand. Some days previous, while filing a saw, John slightly scratched one of his fingers. He gave the injury little attention and later contracted cold in the same, with the above result. He is confined to his home in the Sixth ward doing nicely and it is thought that nothing serious will follow.

Parties who wish lessons on mandolin, guitar and banjo leave orders at Carling's music store. Years of experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. O. E. PALMER.

Robert Burns Tuesday morning for Machias, Wash., where he has been given a position in the mill of the Woodruff & McQuire Co. His father has been there in the firm's employ for several months.

Rev. Peter Schmitz of St. Mary's church left yesterday for Green Bay where he accompanied Arch-bishop Messmer to his new charge, the Milwaukee archdiocese. Rev. Schmitz will return tomorrow.

A number of the city's enthusiastic bowlers have leased the Stapleton alleys on Stevens street for the remainder of the winter. The place will be open only for the amusement of themselves and friends and will not be conducted as a money making venture.

The Forest Advance, Three Lakes' newspaper, was a visitor to our exchange table this week. It is a bright appearing sheet and with two such hostling newspaper men at its helm as Wm. J. Neu and B. Lowen, we predict for it a prosperous future.

John Kazuta, a woodman in the employ of the Brown Bros. Lumber Co., at one of their camps near Three Lakes, was struck on the right leg by a falling tree last Thursday, and sustained injuries so serious that it was found necessary to amputate the member. The operation was performed by Dr. Thorpe of Three Lakes and Dr. Welch of this city. The unfortunate man has a wife and a family of six children in Germany. Since coming to this country he has made Three Lakes his headquarters.

A. W. Bryant, one of the students in the electrical engineering department of the Wisconsin University, has gone to South America, where he has accepted a contract to install a telephone system. The gentleman laid the plans and installed the Mutual Telephone system in this city two summers ago. He has also instituted several systems of the same order in cities throughout this and other states and enjoys a wide reputation in electrical circles.

While in the woods near his home last Friday W. F. Gossell of the Town of Newbold tripped on a piece of underbrush, falling and striking his right arm on the teeth of a cross cut saw, which he was carrying. A dangerous looking wound was inflicted just above the elbow. He hurried to this city, sought the services of a surgeon and had the injured member dressed. He will be unable to work for some weeks.

Paul Heller, an Antigo young man who was known by many Rhinelanderites, died Thursday in a Milwaukee hospital as the result of injuries received on the North-Western railroad some months previous while employed by the company. The funeral was held at his home in Antigo Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the B. H. T. of which he was a member. He leaves a father, mother, three brothers and two sisters to mourn him.

MUSIC LESSONS.
Parties who wish lessons on mandolin, guitar and banjo leave orders at Carling's music store. Years of experience. Satisfaction guaranteed. O. E. PALMER.

TO PRESERVE WISCONSIN FORESTS.

State Superintendent on an Investigating Tour in This Part of the State.

E. M. Griffith, state superintendent of forestry, starts this week on an extensive tour of the state forest reserve. During this trip he will try to interest the owners of large paper mills and other enterprises depending directly on the water supply in the scientific preservation of Wisconsin forests. He will visit the paper mill men of Appleton on Friday and those of Grand Rapids early next week. Afterwards he will spend two weeks or more looking over the state forest reserve, which consists of 31,000 acres in Forest, Oneida and Vilas counties.

"The principal purpose of intelligently preserving forests," Mr. Griffith says "is to regulate the water supply." The large forests as the sources of the principal rivers of the country serve to create earth reservoirs. The water seeps through the heavy mold, covering the ground gradually, thus affording a constant flow during the year.

"The interests of all the people are interdependent, and, as the manufacturing, agricultural, and transportation interests depended almost entirely on the watersupply, whatever affects it affects the whole people."

"While the preservation of the watersupply is the most valuable consideration in the science of forestry, that of intelligently using and growing timber also is an important element."

Mr. Griffith is an expert forester, and next summer will secure several other experts from the national bureau to assist him in making a careful investigation of the forests of the state. He wants a large reserve and wants the tracts well bunched. He says the timber sold off the forest reserve in this state, from time to time, will more than pay the expenses of the forestry department.

A CARD.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Coll. If it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded. J. J. Reardon.

Report of the Financial Condition of the Merchants' State Bank, located at Rhinelander, Wis., state of Wisconsin, at the close of business on the 26th day of February, 1919.

RESOURCES.
Loans and Discounts	$257,129.96
Overdrafts	3,323.95
Real Estate	15,000.00
Deposits	28.00
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures	15,000.00
One from bank	27,000.12
Checks on other banks and cash	3,323.95
Items	127.00
Exchange for clearing house	121.61
Cash on hand	7,264.11
Total	$397,928.12

LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in	$200,000.00
Surplus fund	15,000.00
Undivided profits	9,274.07
Dividends unpaid	127.00
Deposits	228,728.12
Total	$397,928.12

State of Wisconsin, County of Oneida, ss.
I, H. H. Rayson, Treasurer of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of February, 1919.
PAUL BROWN, Notary Public.
Correct. Attest:
E. O. HARRIS, Director.

QUEEN OF THE KITCHEN

Majestic Range.

—BUILT BY—

Lewis Hardware Company

Prospective builders will bear in mind that here may be found everything in the line of Builders Hardware, Sash and Doors and Paints and Oils.

IN ABSENCE.

"God lead thee, dear!" The surly light
Stood softly through the glass,
The dream and darkness in the night
Are lost in perfect day.
And, and, and, and, and, and, and, and,
"God lead thee, dear, always!"

"God help thee, dear!" The moonlight love
Is golden, and, and, and, and, and, and,
The world smiles upward to the power,
To meet the dawn of a new day,
I pause and whisper earnestly:
"God help thee, dear, always!"

"God keep thee, dear!" The sunset flush
Kisses the dreaming day,
And in the wondrous holy hush
The whole world seems to pray,
I kneel and whisper fervently:
"God keep thee, dear, always!"

—Alice R. Allen, in Good Housekeeping.

Woman Disposes

By JOHN C. FISCHBECK

THIS happened 20 years ago, when good Mr. Spotswood was governor of this fair province of Virginia. I was a young gallant then, and not a somewhat sluggish dabbler, as I have become. And Miss Clarendon, whom you may see knitting placidly by the window, was neither elderly nor gray-haired. She was as lissome a younglass as one might wish to see, and when I saw her first, riding along a country lane on her palfrey, I felt that Cupid's arrows had wounded me once for all.

Now, this is a bit of personal history, and refers to Christmas time and stormy weather, such as sometimes happens, though but rarely, in our Virginia. There were many merry-makings in the country in those days, when the example of a pleasure-loving monarch, hovebeit, dwelt across the seas, encouraged his people in all such harmless indulgences. It was at a neighbor's place, where we were enjoying a dance, not long before the beginning of the holiday season, that I made my bow to sweet Miss Prudence Haywood. But she would have none of me, tossing her pretty head and bustling off on the arm of one of her other suitors.

I thought this a bad beginning, but reminded me of the proverb about the brave and the fair, and determined to press my suit. It chanced that her father had been an old comrade of mine in the Indian wars, and I soon found means to visit him. The old man received me cordially, and as we sat over our mugs in the comfortable wainscoted hall of his fine old dwelling, he rehearsed to me the eventful story of his campaigns. I listened with outward respect, but, as I confess with some shame, with small attention; because Miss Prudence served us from time to time, as the mugs ran dry—talking, being thirsty work—as my eyes and ears were for her alone.

I need not say that once established in the good man's graces, I was assiduous in my wooing. But Prudence put me off with the art of which every maid, however country bred, is mistress. At the end of the twelfth month I knew no better how I stood in her estimation than I did at the beginning.

Christmas eve was approaching, and with the decline of the year came frequent storms and tremendous snows, such as the people of the virginia had not seen for a time longer than compassed by the memory of the oldest man amongst us. Travel was not only difficult, but perilous, and hardly a morning passed but brought tidings of distress, not rarely coupled with the news that some daring equestrian had succumbed to the cold, or been "whined in a treacherous creek." I could not leave my lonely hall in such weather without a decent excuse, and for a week searched in vain for a reasonable pretext to dare the dangerous roads and see Prudence again. I was very much in love, and it seemed at length as though I would risk any danger, just to see her sweet face again.

At last I could no longer deny the gratification of my desire. So, saddling my horse, Dobbin, I pushed through the heavy drifts and on to Holloway hall, passing over the great stone bridge across the river which separates the two estates. I noted that the ice had accumulated perilously against the central arch of the bridge, and remarked to myself that there would be risk, and the weather moderated not, of the ancient structure collapsing before the tremendous pressure. At another time or on another mission, I might have dismounted and made an examination of the masonry, but I pushed on, assuring myself that there was no immediate peril, and that the stonework had stood 50 winters, even if none so severe as this, and would doubtless survive a few brief days of stress.

As I brushed the snow from my cloak in the porch of Holloway, I could not but feel a sense of foolishness, for having ventured on a visit at a time so evidently unpropitious. Old Master Haywood was absent, but Prudence met me at the door.

"Why, Master Clarendon," she said, "this is a rough wind that blows you hither. Shall I bid you welcome, or not?"

"As you prefer," I answered, somewhat sulky, for I was nettled at the mockery in her eyes. "But since I come so far and by such dangerous roads, I may tell you that I have an object in doing so."

A sudden color flamed into her cheeks, and she drew back with a little exclamation, partly surprise and partly coquetry, for such is the manner of girls.

"Fear not," I cried, the sight of her dear face putting to flight all the timidity of the previous moment, "all I have to say may be put in three words: 'I love you, Prudence!'"

I paused for an answer. But never a word said she. She stood there smiling.

"Marry me, my dear," I began again. "I have loved you ever since I saw you first; and then I want to tell you how I have seen her riding on a day near 13 months before, and then of the dance where I had first addressed her, and then of her father's long stories of old campaigns, and my inattention when she was within sight. But she interrupted me not at all; merely smiled as she listened. And when I made an end, there fell a silence between us.

"Will make no answer to my suit?" I said, finally. "Well, be it so. But I will ask again, and again, and yet again, till you tell me what I wish to hear. Sweet Miss Prudence Clarendon that is to be, I salute you!"

"You have impudence, Mr.," she cried,

"To take possession of me so cavalierly! I will marry whom I please, and when I please, and it will not be you. I care not at all for you!"

It was warm and snug within doors, but as I swung to saddle again, the cold struck into my bones, and the growing storm made all about black and strange. The wind had sprung up within the hour, and now whirled the snow into blinding clouds, so that my faithful horse pricked his way slowly and still more slowly through the increasing drifts. My own mind was full of sad thoughts. Though I was resolved to win Prudence in the end, this did not prevent me from yielding to the deep depression of my mood. I cast the reins on Dobbin's neck and let the good beast proceed at his own sweet will.

I know not how long I had been riding, nor how far I had got on my way homeward, when my melancholy meditations were interrupted by the sound of something following me. In the noise of the wind it was impossible to distinguish clearly the direction from which these sounds proceeded; moreover, the foot-steps—for such they seemed—were muffled by the snow. Nowadays I think it strange that I should have heard anything at all. But, my friends, there is a clairvoyance of the heart by means of which we have an instinctive knowledge of many things too subtle to be heard or seen with the gross bodily organs. And so it seems to me in the case I speak of; for, obeying an impulse, the cause of which I cannot even now describe to you, I suddenly caught up the reins and turned Dobbin's head against the wind. And will it was that I did so. Prudence, a few moments I heard a voice cry out in distress, and, by my faith, it was not the hoarse shout of a man, but the shrill treble of a frightened woman. With that, I clapped spurs sharply down and hastened with all speed possible to give what help I could; for under such circumstances it is not well to delay.

And whom do you think I found there, stalled in the snow, half fainting in her saddle from the cold and the bewilderment of the night?

Prudence!

My arms were about her in an instant. As I bore her from her horse, wrapping my cloak about her trembling figure, she put her dear head against my shoulder and began to sob. To my eager question, what had sent her forth on such a night, she made no answer for a long time, and I availed myself of the opportunity to turn in the direction of Holloway hall, leading her palfrey by the bridle. At length, as Prudence regained her composure, I learned why she had followed me.

"A moment after you left," she whispered, hiding her face in my breast, my father rode up, having been out on business at the village. He was full of concern, for, he said, the bridge over the river between your house and ours had gone down during the evening, the weight of the ice piled against it. What time did it go, father? I asked, filled with a sudden apprehension. "Scarce an hour since," he answered; "I heard it as I was leaving the village." At once I thought of your riding home in the night, unable to see what lay before you, blinded perchance by the snow, and with that broken bridge in your path. Without a word to any, I snatched my hood and cloak, fled to the stable, and saddling my palfrey, started in pursuit. But though I know the road so well, the snow proved too much for us, my horse and I, and had Providence not watched over us, I fear we would have perished. A silly fool am I! I might have sent my father, or one of the men. But, no! I did not stop to think!

"Glad am I you did not," I said, "for now, Miss Prudence, you shall deny me no more. A woman takes no such risks for a man she loves not. Said I not truly you would marry me, after all?"

She answered not. In a few minutes we met Master Haywood, and a troop of his men searching for the missing maid.

"Sir," said I, as we drew rein before the hall, "I crave your hospitality for the night, for my own home is far, and the weather unpropitious. And to-morrow I shall ask you yet another favor still."

"Harry," replied the old gentleman, clapping me on the back, "it hath already been asked and granted. The wench told me months ago she loved thee and would marry thee. 'Twas only a matter of waiting till she was ready. And as for thee—boy, dost think an old Indian fighter hath failed to see through thy pretense of interest in his tales of forgotten battles? Ha! and his cheerful laugh rang out right merrily. And as we stood in the great hall, he took our hands in his, and joined them together, and with the tear drops glistening in his eyes, added: 'Take her, Harry, and be happy!'"

And that, my friends, is how Prudence Haywood made up her mind to become Miss Clarendon!

Woman Disposes

By JOHN C. FISCHBECK

THIS happened 20 years ago, when good Mr. Spotswood was governor of this fair province of Virginia. I was a young gallant then, and not a somewhat sluggish dabbler, as I have become. And Miss Clarendon, whom you may see knitting placidly by the window, was neither elderly nor gray-haired. She was as lissome a younglass as one might wish to see, and when I saw her first, riding along a country lane on her palfrey, I felt that Cupid's arrows had wounded me once for all.

Now, this is a bit of personal history, and refers to Christmas time and stormy weather, such as sometimes happens, though but rarely, in our Virginia. There were many merry-makings in the country in those days, when the example of a pleasure-loving monarch, hovebeit, dwelt across the seas, encouraged his people in all such harmless indulgences. It was at a neighbor's place, where we were enjoying a dance, not long before the beginning of the holiday season, that I made my bow to sweet Miss Prudence Haywood. But she would have none of me, tossing her pretty head and bustling off on the arm of one of her other suitors.

I thought this a bad beginning, but reminded me of the proverb about the brave and the fair, and determined to press my suit. It chanced that her father had been an old comrade of mine in the Indian wars, and I soon found means to visit him. The old man received me cordially, and as we sat over our mugs in the comfortable wainscoted hall of his fine old dwelling, he rehearsed to me the eventful story of his campaigns. I listened with outward respect, but, as I confess with some shame, with small attention; because Miss Prudence served us from time to time, as the mugs ran dry—talking, being thirsty work—as my eyes and ears were for her alone.

I need not say that once established in the good man's graces, I was assiduous in my wooing. But Prudence put me off with the art of which every maid, however country bred, is mistress. At the end of the twelfth month I knew no better how I stood in her estimation than I did at the beginning.

Christmas eve was approaching, and with the decline of the year came frequent storms and tremendous snows, such as the people of the virginia had not seen for a time longer than compassed by the memory of the oldest man amongst us. Travel was not only difficult, but perilous, and hardly a morning passed but brought tidings of distress, not rarely coupled with the news that some daring equestrian had succumbed to the cold, or been "whined in a treacherous creek." I could not leave my lonely hall in such weather without a decent excuse, and for a week searched in vain for a reasonable pretext to dare the dangerous roads and see Prudence again. I was very much in love, and it seemed at length as though I would risk any danger, just to see her sweet face again.

At last I could no longer deny the gratification of my desire. So, saddling my horse, Dobbin, I pushed through the heavy drifts and on to Holloway hall, passing over the great stone bridge across the river which separates the two estates. I noted that the ice had accumulated perilously against the central arch of the bridge, and remarked to myself that there would be risk, and the weather moderated not, of the ancient structure collapsing before the tremendous pressure. At another time or on another mission, I might have dismounted and made an examination of the masonry, but I pushed on, assuring myself that there was no immediate peril, and that the stonework had stood 50 winters, even if none so severe as this, and would doubtless survive a few brief days of stress.

As I brushed the snow from my cloak in the porch of Holloway, I could not but feel a sense of foolishness, for having ventured on a visit at a time so evidently unpropitious. Old Master Haywood was absent, but Prudence met me at the door.

"Why, Master Clarendon," she said, "this is a rough wind that blows you hither. Shall I bid you welcome, or not?"

"As you prefer," I answered, somewhat sulky, for I was nettled at the mockery in her eyes. "But since I come so far and by such dangerous roads, I may tell you that I have an object in doing so."

A sudden color flamed into her cheeks, and she drew back with a little exclamation, partly surprise and partly coquetry, for such is the manner of girls.

"Fear not," I cried, the sight of her dear face putting to flight all the timidity of the previous moment, "all I have to say may be put in three words: 'I love you, Prudence!'"

I paused for an answer. But never a word said she. She stood there smiling.

"Marry me, my dear," I began again. "I have loved you ever since I saw you first; and then I want to tell you how I have seen her riding on a day near 13 months before, and then of the dance where I had first addressed her, and then of her father's long stories of old campaigns, and my inattention when she was within sight. But she interrupted me not at all; merely smiled as she listened. And when I made an end, there fell a silence between us.

"Will make no answer to my suit?" I said, finally. "Well, be it so. But I will ask again, and again, and yet again, till you tell me what I wish to hear. Sweet Miss Prudence Clarendon that is to be, I salute you!"

"You have impudence, Mr.," she cried,

WOMAN HOME

HINDOO CHILD WIVES.

Their Existence, from Cradle to Grave, in One of Unbearable Horror and Degradation.

A Hindoo grandmother, with a red sari drawn close around her, told her life's story recently to 100 Chicago mothers who had gathered in a little room in Handell hall to hear it.

It was a story that might have been told in Nero's court, while Christians, burning like candles in their jackets of tar, were illuminating the gardens—it might have been told then because the flames would have made a perfect setting for the story of Sukhiva Vannerjee. This Hindoo grandmother's hair was as black as ebony and her eyes were the eyes of youth with the fire of a hope burned out. The mothers who heard her story were white-haired, many of them.

Twenty-one years ago Sukhiva Vannerjee was married. She was 27 years old. The man who took as his bride a girl of six was over 20, was prosperous, and belonged to India's high caste, as did the child wife.

The woman told her story in broken English. Now and then she was prompted by Miss Josephine Holmes, a Los Angeles woman who brought her to this country to arouse sympathy in America in the movement to abolish the child wife practices in India.

Here is the story that Sukhiva Vannerjee told:

She was six years old when her parents announced that a husband had been selected for her. She did not see her

PRETTY DUTCH DESIGNS.

In High Favor Just Now for the Decoration of Lamp Shades, Boxes and Cushion Pillows.

Those well known Dutch designs (representing sturdy little Hollanders, actually, girls, etc.) are so striking as fixtures upon cushions and decorative boxes that it is pleasant to find them in still another form.

From France comes the suggestion of using them upon lamp and candle shades. Not until the results of the plan are seen does one realize just how clever a choice it is.

Of course the material used in the shades must be of a character appropriate to such treatment. Heavy carbon paper or cardboard without a glaze is a good choice. So are denim and other heavy fabrics.

Some women will be able to do original work in applying the design. Those who have no gift in this line can transfer the colors with transferring fluid.

DELFT LAMP SHADES.

A very pretty decoration is obtained by the new application method of fancy work. Here, the rough sketch or outline of the picture is drawn in with a soft pencil, the various divisions being afterwards cut out of cloth, cardboard, etc., and pasted on.

In this way, if the Dutch gamins in wearing a dark blue blouse, a traced pattern made over the sketch is cut out of dark blue flannel or carbon paper. This fits exactly into the sketch. It is neatly pasted in with gum arabic. Sabots can be shaped from heavy yellow paper or cardboard, and any other portions of dress or figure added until the picture is complete.—St. Paul Globe.

A HANDY BOOK RACK.

It solves the Problem of How to Dispose of the Magazines Which Come in the Household.

What to do with the magazines and illustrated papers that find their way into increasing numbers into nearly every household these days is a considerable problem, particularly if space is at a premium and the ruler of the home does not approve of having the tables littered with reading matter. In order to meet the demand for convenient, handy receptacles for newspapers and book racks of all sorts and sizes are brought out every season by enterprising and ingenious manufacturers and many of the new contrivances are very satisfactory and oftentimes decidedly ingenious. One of the latest productions in this line is a picture of use and ornament, for an article of furniture such as this of polished mahogany.

When she was 11 years and 11 months old a daughter was born to her. The mother-in-law flew into a rage when the sex of the first child was announced—girls are a disgrace in India.

Two years passed and a second daughter was born. This time the mother-in-law was incoercible. She ordered the husband to turn the wife out of the house. The husband obeyed. Husbands have to obey their mothers in India.

Banished from home at the age of 11, the child wife was led blindfold into the jungle to satisfy the hunger of tigers. For two days and as many nights she roamed through the forest. The incessant roar of wild animals drove her out of her mind. Willing in this condition she was rescued from the forest by agents of a concern which trades in cool wives. By these agents she was taken back to Berghal, her native town.

After two nights in the resort to which she was taken Sukhiva Vannerjee escaped and made her way to the home of her own parents. Her mother and father dared not take her in, so they handed her some bread through a window. For this act of charity they had their heads shaved the next day and were ostracized.

Then it was that the girl was picked up by the agents of the Christian refuge in Berghal. She became a worker in the mission and in a short time had rescued 50 other white outcasts. Until Miss Holmes asked her to come to America to study medicine the girl remained in the mission.

Opals Now in High Favor.

In spite of the old-time superstition there seems to be a grave doubt about the ill-luck attaching to opals in the minds of the girls of to-day, for opals are very much worn. There is hardly a more beautiful stone than the opal, and jewelers say that if they continue to wear their way in popular favor they will become more costly. Hitherto they have been cheaper than their beauty led one to expect they would be, but that was because the superstition about their ill-luck bringing powers made people fear to own them, and thus the demand for them was comparatively small. An opal surrounded by smaller brilliants makes a charming setting for a ring. The diamonds reflect the rainbow tints of the opal, and the combination of stones is one which shows the beauties of both to best advantage.—Chicago News.

Cleaning Curtains at Home.

A professional cleaner says that the best method of cleaning lace curtains at home is to make a suds of warm water, white castile soap and a little borax. If the curtains are very dirty scrub them gently with a soft scrubbing brush. Lace curtains should never be rubbed between the hands. This stretches the mesh and is very likely to tear holes in it. When quite clean rinse in clear water to which a little borax has been added, squeeze between the hands, but do not wring, and dry in a sheet.

An Egg Teaching Hint.

Add a little vinegar to the water in which you poach eggs, to prevent the whites from spreading. Breaking each into a cup about a quarter of an hour before it is to be used will also help.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP.

RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

"The world of medicine recognizes Grip as epidemic catarrh."—Medical Talk.

LA GRIPPE is epidemic catarrh. It spares no class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are alike subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip got you? Grip is well named. The original French term, la grippe, has been shortened by the busy Americans to read "grip." Without intending to do so a new word has been coined that exactly describes the case. As if some hideous giant with awful Guts had clutched us in its fatal clasp. Men, women, and children, whole towns and cities are caught in the baneful grip of a terrible monster.

The following letters speak for themselves as to the efficacy of Peru-NA in cases of la grippe or its after effects.

After Effects of la Grippe Eradicated by Peru-NA.

Mrs. Fred Weinberger, Westerlo, Albany County, N. Y., writes:

"Several years ago I had an attack of la grippe which left my nerves in a prostrated condition. Then I had another attack of la grippe which left me worse. I had tried three good physicians but all in vain. I gave Peru-NA a short time I was feeling better, and now I am as well as anyone."—Mrs. Fred Weinberger.

Hon. James R. Gull of Omaha.

Hon. James R. Gull is one of the oldest and most respected men of Omaha.

He has done much to make it what it is, serving on public boards a number of times. He endorses Peru-NA in the following words:

"I am 63 years of age, am hale and hearty, and Peru-NA has helped me attain it. Two years ago I had la grippe—my life was despaired of. Peru-NA saved me."—J. R. Gull.

A Relative of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Elias S. Lincoln, who resides at 912 I. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., has the honor of being third cousin to Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"I had la grippe five times before using your medicine. Four years ago I began the use of Peru-NA, since which time I have not been troubled with that disease. I can now do as much work as my desk as I ever could in my life. I have gained more than ten pounds in weight."—S. S. Lincoln.

Peru-NA Not Only Cured la Grippe but Benefited the Whole System.

Miss Alice M. Dressler, 1213 N. Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured, but the bad after effects remained through the summer and somehow I did not get strong as I was before. One of my college friends who was visiting me asked me to try Peru-NA and I did so and found it all and more than I had expected. It not only cured me of the catarrh but restored me to perfect health, built up the entire system and brought a happy feeling of buoyancy which I had not known for years."—Alice M. Dressler.

An Actress' Testimonial.

Miss Jean Cowell, Griswold Opera House, Troy, N. Y., is the leading lady with the Aubrey Stock Co. She writes the following:

"During the past winter of 1901, I suffered for several weeks from a severe attack of grippe, which left a serious catarrhal condition of the throat and head.

Some one suggested Peru-NA. As a last resort, after wasting much time and money on physicians, I tried the remedy faithfully, and in a few weeks was as well as ever."—Jean Cowell.

A Southern Judge Cured.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grippe, which left me with a chronic catarrh. A friend advised me to try Peru-NA, which I did, and was immediately benefited and cured. The third bottle completed the cure."—H. J. Goss.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-NA, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Historic Route to Florida.

The shortest and most attractive route from Chicago or St. Louis to Florida is via Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta, over the historic Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Ry. and Western & Atlantic Ry., via Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga Park, and through the famous battlefields of the Civil War. This is the route of the "Dixie Ferry," the all-year-round train between Chicago and St. Augustine, with stopovers at St. Louis and Jacksonville. It is also the route of the "Chicago & Florida Limited," a solid vestibuled train operating during the winter season between Chicago and St. Augustine, with stopovers at St. Louis and Jacksonville. If you contemplate taking a Southern trip, and desire interesting literature about the route, write to R. F. Phillips, N. Y. C. & St. L. Ry., 333 Marquette Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Hardy Grass, February 10-16.

Rates via Mobile and Ohio Railroad from Chicago to New Orleans and return, $25.00. Low rates from all points. For full particulars write J. M. Beall, M. & O. R. R., St. Louis, Mo.

"I don't take any stock in these trusts, anyway." "Don't believe there are such things." "Oh, yes; but I haven't the money to buy the stock."—N. O. Times Democrat.

In Emmett Co., Dakota.

We can sell you 100 acres for $100. You can break 100 acres this spring, and if to Salzer's Farm and reap enough to pay for your land, and, having a fine farm free the first year, 100 acres for sale.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis.

Carrie—"Do you think a woman is justified in marrying a man she doesn't know?" "Yes, if she is certain she will be justified in marrying a man she does not know."—Boston Transcript.

"The Inside Job" is the name of the only hotel in the World's Fair Grounds—American and European plan at reasonable rates. See advertisement in another column and write for folder to "Inside Job," Administration Bldg., Room 110, St. Louis, Mo.

To pay compliments is much easier than to pay debts.—Chicago Daily News.

Pain's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. Sargent, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

Hypocrisy is the necessary burden of villainy.—Johnson.

Drying is as easy as washing when Putnam's Indelible Dyes are used.

The faces we most fear fade when we face them.—Ran's Hints.

A WOMAN'S MISERY.

Mrs. John La Rue, of 115 Paterson Ave., Paterson, N. J., writes:

"I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the backache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes. The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the nose. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. The stinging pain in the small of my back, the rushes of blood to the head, and other symptoms disappeared."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. 50 cents per box. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

AN EGG TESTER

FREE

Together with an incubator and brooder catalogues, containing a mass of other valuable and interesting information, a colored plate, showing by light and color the development of the chick in the shell, free by sending no money.

GEO. H. STALL, Quincy, Ill.

Four cents to pay for postage and packing.

UMC.

AMMUNITION

Is extensively used every where in the world, wherever the muzzle loader has given way to the breech loader. It is made in the largest and best equipped cartridge factory in existence.

This accounts for the uniformity of its quality.

At your dealer—U. S. M. Co.—when he asks: "What kind?"

Catalogue free.

The Union Metallic Cartridge Co. BRIDGEPORT, CONN. Agents, 313 Broadway, New York City, N. Y.

50,000 Americans

Were Welcomed to

FARMERS' WESTERN CANADA FREE

During last Year

There is a well known fact that the Grain and Cattle Ranges of the West are open to all who wish to settle. Farmers' Western Canada is a new and growing country, and a place where every man, woman and child can find a home. The land is fertile, the climate is healthy, and the people are friendly. For a full description of the country and the terms of settlement, send for a free catalogue to the Farmers' Western Canada Company, 1111 Broadway, New York City.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN.

A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and all other ailments of the Throat and Lungs. It is a safe and reliable remedy, and is used by all the best physicians in the world. For a full description of the product and the terms of sale, send for a free catalogue to the Mother Gray's Sweet Powders Company, 1111 Broadway, New York City.

PRAYER 250

THE COMET

Prayer, Power, and the Comet. A new and original work, showing the connection between the spiritual and the material world. For a full description of the work and the terms of sale, send for a free catalogue to the Prayer 250 Company, 1111 Broadway, New York City.

LADIES WHO SUFFER

From Pains in the Back, Head, and Stomach, and all other ailments of the Female System. For a full description of the product and the terms of sale, send for a free catalogue to the Ladies Who Suffer Company, 1111 Broadway, New York City.

ARE YOU GOING TO THE World's Fair?

Send for Booklet telling how to secure accommodation at

THE "INSIDE INN"

The only Hotel within the grounds. Rates: $1.50 per day. For a full description of the hotel and the terms of sale, send for a free booklet to the Inside Inn Company, 1111 Broadway, New York City.

THE INSIDE INN

SAINT LOUIS

